Red China Spurns Proposal, Andrei Vishinsky Tells UN

Meany Becomes AFL Head

Dan Tobin, left, congratulates George Meany, Nov. 25, after Meany's selection by top AFL officials in Washington to succeed William Green as president of the big union organization. A chair draped in mourning for Green is beside Meany who has been the AFL's secretary-treasurer. Tobin and Matthew Woll, right, are vice-presidents. Green died Nov. 21.

Eisenhower Has Seven Appointed To Places in Nation's Cabinet

President-Elect Announces Women Will Have Posts in Government; Mrs. Oveta Hobby and Mrs. Ivy B. Priest Are Named

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower neared the end of his designations for top-level government offices today, declaring that more high positions will be assigned to women administrators.

He named the seventh member of the normally nine-man cabinet.

And along with that designation, he announced yesterday he will propose the names of two women—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, of Bountiful, Utah—for administrative offices in the government he is forming.

Mrs. Hobby was named to head the Federal Security Agency, and Mrs. Priest as treasurer of the United States.

These, he said in a formal announcement, are 'the first of other appointments of women in the coming administration."

The designation for the cabinet was Arthur E. Summerfield, of Flint, Mich., for postmaster general. Summerfield is chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Two Posts Open

Only two cabinet posts now remain: The secretaries of commerce and labor. There has been no indication at the general's headquarters as to his choices.

He has an appointment today with Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, of Maryland, one of his early backers in the fight for the presidency, and the man who nominated him for the office at the GOP convention in July.

Friendly Call, He Says

The governor said yesterday his appointment with Eisenhower is only a friendly call and has no other significance.

Eisenhower also called in today an official who can tell him a good deal about Korea—Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower. She went to Korea early this month, spent nearly a week there, and talked with Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, some of the other UN commanders, and the soldiers in the lines. Eisenhower aides said they have no information about the reason for the conference.

Nor was there any indication today when Eisenhower would leave on his trip to Korea. Security measures are covering all details of his departure from New York. The Defense Department announced last week that no news about him will be cleared from the Korean area while he is still in the theatre of operations.

Meanwhile, one of Eisenhower's cabinet designations brought a blast of criticism from Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Frowns on Dulles

Speaking last night in New Haven, Conn., before the Yale Political Union, a student group, McCormick attacked the selection of John Foster Dulles as the next secretary of state. McCormick said of him:

"Dulles belongs to the millionaire Socialist crowd who would put European interest before American interests, a policy to which Eisenhower seems to have been attracted by his command of armies."

The appointment will cause trouble in the Republican party, McCormick said.

"This presages a split between Eisenhower and a large majority of Republicans," McCormick said. "How we shall go from here nobody can know."

White House Plans To Reinforce Its Controls Authority

Maybank Remark Not Credited by Truman Forces as Being Authentic

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—White House denial that President Truman plans to scrap price-wage controls was underscored today by a report that administration officials are considering a proposal to strengthen and extend controls authority.

The White House late yesterday discounted a report from Sen. Maybank (D.-S. C.) that he had information Truman might end price and wage controls before Congress convenes Jan. 3.

A spokesman said the President, who can kill such controls by executive order, has no such plans.

Shortly after the denial it was reported that Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam has recommended a 14-month extension of price, wage and rent control authority from the April 30, 1953, deadline to June 30, 1954. Putnam, however, was described as feeling the power might not be used that long.

Hands Recommendations

Mobilization officials said Putnam handed his recommendations some days ago to Defense Mobilization Director Henry H. Fowler, whose wrapup of recommendations for new legislation is now being readied for the White House.

The officials said privately that Putnam's program included proposals to restore authority to restrict installment credit and real estate down-payment terms; restore power to impose fruit and vegetable price ceilings, and provide federal authority to re-impose rent ceilings in communities where rents rose dangerously after being decontrolled.

Suspends Ceilings

Outgoing Price Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods suspended price ceilings on all women's and misses' clothing, effective when announced yesterday. And the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) indicated ceilings on men's and young men's apparel—but not on infants' and children's wear, selling at or near ceilings—will be suspended by this weekend.

Meanwhile, former OPS Director Michael V. DiSalle was expected in Washington to discuss the controls situation with Truman, amid speculation that the President might ask DiSalle to become price chief again. DiSalle, defeated Democratic candidate for Ohio senator, said he had not been offered the job, which becomes vacant Dec. 1, and was not interested in it.

When Woods announced his plan to quit Monday night he said he was tired of trying to enforce what he called a "weak law."

Troops, Supplies Bombed by Allies; Whole Area Flames

Sabre Jets and Red Planes Clash in North Korea; Texas Man Gets 5th MIG

Seoul, Nov. 26 (AP) — Allied fighter-bombers slammed high explosives and flaming jellied gasoline on a sprawling Red troop and supply concentration near Wonsan on the Communist east coast today.

Pilots said the whole area burst into flame. Dense clouds of smoke rose thousands of feet. Five large secondary explosions were touched off, indicating direct hits on ammunition stores.

U. S. Sabre jets and Communist MIG-15s clashed deep over North Korea. Allied pilots made no claims of damage or destruction.

Assault Hurled Back

Along the battlefront, UN infantrymen hurled back an assault by about 120 screaming Chinese Reds who stormed their central front positions on the northern slopes of Jackson Heights. The savage, close-quarters fighting raged for four hours.

The air force announced that Lt. Cecil G. Foster of San Antonio knocked down his fifth Communist warplane Saturday and became America's 24th ace of the Korean war. Foster's claim was confirmed after a study of gun camera film.

The Red assault on Jackson Heights exploded shortly after midnight. Communist artillery unleashed a terrific barrage before the infantry attack and kept lobbing high explosives into the allied positions during the fight.

Reds Are Driven Off

The Reds were driven off after a vicious hand grenade and small arms battle.

That was the only action of any size along the bleak 155-mile Korean battleline.

Elsewhere, Eighth Army headquarters reported only small skirmishes and patrol clashes.

The Communist attack on the Jackson Heights positions capped a series of smaller Chinese stabs the past few nights. The Reds hold Jackson Heights proper but allied forces occupy the southern slope.

Treason Suspect

Staff Sgt. Giuseppe Cascio, 34, of Poughkeepsie, veteran of nine years in the U. S. Air Force, was charged, Nov. 25, in Tokyo with conspiring to sell secret information on America's top jet plane in Korea to the enemy.

Reply Came 2 Days Ago, He Reports

Tells Political Committee Present Debate Waste of Time; Got Copy of Resolution

Changes Offered

Russian Would Amend Indian Plan to Suit Soviet Demands

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky announced today that Communist China already had turned down India's compromise plan for ending the Korean prisoner-of-war deadlock.

Vishinsky addressed the UN political committee shortly after that 60-nation body had voted to give priority to the Indian proposal, which Russia already had rejected.

The Soviet foreign minister said the Peiping government had been given a copy of the resolution by the Indian government and had given its negative reply two days ago. For that reason, he said, the committee would be merely wasting time to pursue its present debate on the Indian plan.

Offers Amendments

At the same time, however, Vishinsky offered a series of amendments to the Indian proposal in an attempt to bring it into line with Russia's demands for repatriation of all prisoners.

He called for an immediate and complete cease-fire on the basis of the armistice points agreed upon at Panmunjom with the addition of a provision for full repatriation of prisoners.

Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, chief Indian delegate, listened intently as the Soviet foreign minister told of the Chinese Communist rejection of the Indian resolution. Vishinsky said it was possible the Peiping reply still had not been transmitted to the Indian delegation here.

Opposes Priority

Vishinsky heatedly argued yesterday against giving the Indians priority, contending that the committee should deal with the resolutions in the order they were introduced. That would put the Indian plan fifth and last on the list.

Despite the Soviet rejection, supporters of the Indian plan decided to press ahead, leaving it up to the Communists either to accept it or face world censure for having turned down a move for Korean peace.

The 21-nation resolution calls for a truce on the basis of the UN command's terms laid down at Panmunjom, including no forced repatriation. Vishinsky's motion provides for an immediate ceasefire followed by an international conference to settle all Korean issues, including the question of prisoners.

Must Set Limit

The Indian resolution, adopting the western stand against forced repatriation would have the UN to take over those POW's whose future has not been settled by an International Repatriation Commission in five months. American sources said the plan, to be acceptable, must set a definite time limit for the full release and resettlement of the prisoners.

Presumably the United States was assured this would be done before it joined the other 20 western nations in urging priority for consideration of the plan.

The agreement to seek this "clarification" apparently healed the rift between the British and Americans which had further clouded the Korean issue since last weekend.

Summerfield Gets Postmastership; to Resign GOP Post

Michigan Auto Dealer Says Appointment Is No Surprise to Him

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—Republican National Committee Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield today began squaring away for a new assignment— the postmaster generalship in the Eisenhower administration.

His appointment to the cabinet was announced late yesterday by President-elect Eisenhower.

Summerfield, 53-year-old highly successful automobile dealer at Flint, Mich., promptly called a news conference here. He announced he will step down from the party chairmanship—although the jobs of party chairman and postmaster general have been frequently combined—in order to devote full attention to the mail service.

Succeeds Donaldson

He will take over the giant Post Office Department and its 500,000 employes from Jesse M. Donaldson, civil service career man in the postal service for 45 years, who was named to the top job by President Truman in 1945.

Donaldson, 67, and with many years of civil service behind him, now has a choice of seeking continued service in a top-rated post office job, or taking the full retirement benefits to which he is entitled.

Summerfield, who was made party chairman immediately after the Eisenhower nomination at Chicago and who steered the successful Republican campaign, said the post office appointment came as no sudden surprise, but declined to say when it was first offered him.

Not Political Plums

Post Office Department appointments are not the political plums they once were. Except for the topmost jobs, virtually the entire personnel is in civil service, including all postmasters. The latter are now chosen after examination from among the three making the highest grades. And

Benson Gets 2½ Years as Hi-Jacker

$20,000 Loot Found Stored on Guardi Farm in Accord Area

New York, Nov. 26 (Special)—A Brooklyn hi-jacker who stored a little less than half of the $52,000 load of textiles he stole on a farm near Accord, was sentenced to two and a half years in jail by Judge Edward Weinfeld in the U. S. District Court here yesterday.

The man, Benny Benson, 42, and an accomplice stole the load destined for various consignees in New York and New England, from a trucking company in Long Island City, N. Y.

Rented to Benson

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said about $20,000 worth of textiles was found on the farm near Accord, whose owner Mrs. Louise Guardi said she had rented the space to Benson for $200.

FBI agents recovered the textiles at the farm on January 9, 1952, and Benson was arrested a few hours later when he showed up. An accomplice, Anthony Caputo, of Brooklyn, was arrested later that day.

Broke Federal Laws

Benson and Caputo were charged with theft from an interstate shipment. Edward Scheidt, special agents in charge of the New York office, said the men violated federal laws because they crossed state lines when transporting the stolen textiles to Accord.

Maximum sentence for the crime is ten years imprisonment, $5,000 fine, or both.

Paint Splash

North Front street was brightened a bit this gray day when a five-gallon can of whitelead fell from a truck at Crown street. Police headquarters was notified at 8:30 a. m., and the information was relayed to the public works department, which sanded the area made slippery by the spilled paint. Traffic caused some splashing of the paint and the danger of skidding. Officers Gerald Every and Leonard Ellsworth directed traffic until conditions were bettered.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—The position of the treasury Nov. 24: Net budget receipts $250,850,942.65. Budget expenditures $197,408,104.75. Cash balance $8,003,257,027.28. Snow Clamps Tight On Midwest Areas; Six Persons Dead

Kansas, Nebraska Are Hit Hardest; Some Parts of West Get Blizzard

(By The Associated Press)

Wind-whipped snow clamped an icy grip over wide sections of the midlands today, stranding travelers, closing schools and blocking roads.

At least six deaths were attributed to storm conditions. Almost a foot of snow was recorded in some towns.

Kansas and Nebraska, where blizzard conditions prevailed in some areas yesterday, apparently felt the greatest impact of the storm.

But parts of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Texas also got their share of snow. The snow eased off during the night in most of the states but the weather bureau said it probably would continue in Minnesota and Iowa throughout today.

Snow Is Widespread

A six to nine-inch blanket of snow covered a section 150 to 200 miles wide from southeastern Minnesota southwestward into northern Texas. A four-inch carpet of white covered most of Kansas and Nebraska and northwestward into Wyoming and central Montana.

Winds of 30-35 miles an hour with gusts of 45 to 58 MPH created blizzard-like conditions in some areas.

Temperatures were below zero early today in the northern Rockies and in the low teens as far south as northern Texas and in the Plains states. Rain fell in the lower and middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Generally fair weather was reported in the rest of the country with temperatures around seasonal levels.

National Guardsmen Help

The Kansas National Guard turned out to aid stranded motorists.

At Wichita, hundreds of cars were reported snowbound along highways near the city. More than 150 persons were rescued during the night. Red Cross and Salvation Army workers aided in feeding and housing them.

Other marooned travelers sought shelter in farm houses.

Public transportation in Wichita, a south-central Kansas City of 170,000, was suspended last night. Schools were closed until Monday. Electric service was interrupted.

County Will Get Evacuee Planning

Ulster county will go through all the planning stages of accepting an estimated 25,000 evacuees from New York and sending personnel and men into that area when the metropolitan city is hypothetically bombed on Dec. 13, according to an announcement today by Col. Allan L. Hanstein, county Civil Defense director.

It was emphasized, however, that this county's participation in the A-bomb exercises on that date will be limited to planning. There will be no actual physical movement into or out of Ulster county.

All county departments and reception centers will be required to submit detailed plans telling how they would care for the quota of 25,000 New York residents who would be evacuated to this county, Hanstein explained at a meeting of county, city and village CD heads in Kingston on Monday night. Plans will be made to transport 15,000 evacuees over highways, 7,500 by railroad and 2,500 by water.

Besides Ulster, six upstate counties will have a part in the Dec. 13 exercise, which in New York city will be a full-scale early morning air raid drill. The upstate counties are Dutchess, Putnam, Westchester, Rockland, Orange and Sullivan.

Herbert R. O'Brien, director of the New York office of Civil Defense, has termed the proposed drill the city's "biggest A-bomb exercise." The hypothetical A-bomb will explode 2,500 feet in the air over the intersection of the Boston Post Road and Southern Boulevard in the Bronx.

Two Injured in Accident

Donald Thomas Cullum, 28, of High Falls, and a companion, Allan Houser, 22, of Woodstock, were injured about 11:10 p. m. Tuesday when the car operated by Cullum struck the guard rail on the Onteora Trail after a tire blew out. Cullum reported to the sheriff's office that he observed a car coming out of a driveway and applied his brake. The tire blew out and the 1940 car was wrecked. Cullum suffered a contusion of the right leg and Houser abrasions of the right knee and shock. Cullum was traveling toward Kingston at the time and the car swerved to the left and struck the fence. (Wagenfohr photo)

Oil Lease Buyer Tells of Big Gains Via His Thousand

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—An oil lease buyer has told the Security and Exchange Commission (SEC) that within a seven-month period he made almost a million dollars on a thousand dollar investment—and that he has prospects of making plenty more.

The story came out in a prospectus filed with the commission yesterday by Canadian Prospects, Ltd., of Calgary, Alberta, which wants to sell 303,595 common shares in this country.

"The shares are speculative securities," the prospectus says. It then tells why, in 30 figure-filled pages.

The company says it was founded in May, 1950, by Wilbur

Indian Art Exhibition Is To Be Held at Local Museum

An exhibition of unusual American Indian portraits by George Catlin, and primitive carved wooden figures, will be opened December 1 and will extend through January at the Senate House Museum. It will be open free to the public.

The showing has been arranged by Mrs. E. C. Chadbourne, president of the Senate House Association. Through the courtesy of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, Mrs. Chadbourne has borrowed 12 of the outstanding examples of Catlin's work. In addition the New York State Historical Association has loaned two small paintings of Indian subjects, and Mrs. Richard Aldrick, of Red Hook, has added an outstanding illustrated book of watercolors of Indian warriors. Carved figures have been loaned by Mrs. Fred Marsh, of Woodstock, and Fred J. Johnston of this city.

No other man of his time contributed more knowledge to the vital interpretation of Indian life than Catlin, not only for the people of this country, but those of the great European capitals. From 1837 to 1850, the Catlin paintings were shown in the old Egyptian Hall, Piccadilly, London, and were such a major success that visitors from many parts of the British Isles traveled to view those remarkable likenesses of the red men.

George Catlin was born at Wilkes Barre, Penna., in the year

Air Force Gives Albany Street as Address of Cascio

Poughkeepsie Man Is Not Believed to Have Made Contact With Enemy

The home address of S/Sgt. Guiseppe Cascio, 34, charged with plotting to sell secret data on the U. S. Sabre Jet, was given by the air force as 109 Albany street, Poughkeepsie, the Associated Press said today.

An air force spokesman, the AP also said, today declared "so far as we know" Sgt. Cascio, did not contact any enemy. He said he didn't think the sergeant even had any specific nation in mind.

Cascio's wife, Margaret, 44, of Tucson, Ariz., said yesterday that her husband was originally from Poughkeepsie, but the address was given then as 101 Albany street.

Has Had No Word

In Poughkeepsie the sergeant's father, Salvatore, said yesterday he had not heard from his son in some time, and a brother, Salvatore Cascio, Jr., said he did not

Home Building Increases

A suspended federal regulation (Regulation X) and mild weather probably helped bring an increase in private home building authorizations in the state last month, State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichman said today. The increase was 52 per cent above that of October 1951 with 8,435 dwelling units authorized for last month as against 5,544 units in October, a year ago.

In 1860 Abraham Lincoln won the presidency without leaving his home state of Illinois to campaign.

Famous Port Ewen Drum Corps Is Ready for Minstrel Dec. 3-4

Talented members of the nationally famous Port Ewen Fire Department Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps have been polishing up routines for their annual minstrel show and will be ready for two all-star performances at Town of Esopus Auditorium, Port Ewen, December 3 and 4. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

Ticket sales indicate two packed houses for the minstrel, one of the major sources of income for the corps which has more than $10,000 invested in instruments and uniforms.

That the corps is one of this area's best mediums of goodwill and promotion is voiced in a letter from Edward Scheiberling, past national commander of the American Legion. He referred to the musical marching group as "one of the finest in the country."

The national convention of the American Legion in New York during the past summer was one of 24 dates played by the corps which made public appearances at events throughout New York state and New Jersey.

Two Seasoned Directors

Director for the minstrel this year is Jack Carter, a cymbals player in the corps, a well known entertainer of this section, whose minstrel days stem back to shows he played with Boy Scout troops as a vocalist and instrumentalist.

Bill Smith, whose library of minstrel music fills several trunks, is pianist leader of the show of which he says, "judging from the lively tunes and ballads, this year's minstrel should top them all."

Smith and Carter are exceptionally proud of the 25-men chorus which backs up the featured soloists and eight comical endmen.

Organized in 1929

The corps was organized in 1929 to provide music for the fire company in parades, and made its first public appearance in June of that year at the Mid-Hudson Fireman's Convention in Beacon. Except for several years during World War 2, when many of its members were in service, it has been active since growing in membership from 20 to over 60 members.

Membership in the corps has never been restricted to Port Ewen residents and at present there are members from Catskill, Saugerties, Palenville and Kingston.

The success of the corps has been entirely due to the hard work of the members. The unit is entirely self-supporting and all uniforms and equipment has been earned by the members themselves. The corps now has an investment of over $10,000.00 in uniforms and equipment.

The members receive absolutely no financial reward for their services and all funds derived from parades, concerts, exhibitions, etc., go back into the organization.

Corps in Big Demand

Membership requires the sacrifice of other time and activities. The corps makes public appearance on nearly every holiday and Saturday during the spring, summer and fall.

The corps practices at least once each week all year around on Thursday evenings and at times practices twice a week. During the summer months the corps practices on the large parking lot at Hercules Powder Company, in colder weather practice is held in the Town of Esopus Auditorium.

Musical arrangements and instruction is under the direction of Al Rossi, Kingston music store operator and widely known trumpeter. The corps has large repetoire of musical numbers which is entirely memorized.

The precision drills and marching, are planned and taught by drill instructor, Donald Decker, and his assistant, Arthur Fitzpatrick.

Although an exhibition rather than a competitive corps, the organization has won more than its share of prizes. Enough trophies to fill two trophy cases in the Port Ewen fire house are evidence of success in competition with other units. The peak of success was the winning of six prizes in one day in competition.

The purpose of the corps is to provide the members with a wholesome means of relaxation. It is a non-sectarian, non-partisan organization through which young men may meet in a social manner because of a mutual interest in music.

It is also the purpose of the corps to entertain the public and provide music for patriotic ceremonies, parades and public gatherings.

The corps is interested in obtaining new members at any time. Any male over 16 years of age is eligible for membership.

Troopers Check Window Smashing

State Police at Catskill are investigating the smashing of windows in the home of three Jehovah's Witnesses who were recently cleared in federal court for failure to take the oath of induction into the armed forces. Windows in the Freehold home of the father of three brothers who were cleared of draft evasion charges were broken with rocks last Sunday morning. A half hour later a brick was hurled through the window at the Jehovah's Witness Kingdom Hall in Catskill.

Police believe the two instances were connected and that more than one person was involved in the Freehold affair. The Graham brothers, Howard, 24, Glens, 22, and Douglas, 21, were arrested last spring for failure to report for induction in Catskill. They were freed November 12, by Federal Judge Stephen W. Brennan, who ruled the draft board had committed a technical error in its handling of the case.

Troopers Leonard Addis and Joseph Podeszwa are investigating the window breakings.

Reach Settlement In Bulldozer Case

Settlement was reached Tuesday afternoon in the negligence action brought by Harry Nachman against Dory B. Trowbridge of Stone Ridge for damage to plaintiff's property by reason of a damaged foundation wall which plaintiff alleged was due to the manner in which earth and fill was bulldozed against it in a grading operation in 1951.

Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of public work in Kingston, was called and qualified an expert. He testified that a heavy vehicle such as the 18 ton bulldozer used in the operation would exert undue pressure against a wall if driven close to it. He said in his opinion that this was the reason for the cracked cellar wall which he had inspected.

Following the testimony of Mr. Steuding a recess was taken and later a settlement was announced and the jury excused from further service on the case. Philip Korn appeared for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., for defendant.

THANKSGIVING MEANING

A Thanksgiving custom worth remembering is practiced by some families who set at each place at the dinner table five grains of popcorn. The head of the house then recalls the sufferings of the Pilgrims who finally were reduced to the point of starvation. All they had to eat was five grains of corn apiece. Just as they ate them, they raised their eyes to the harbor and beheld the long-despaired-of ship, laden with food.

"And so," says the host, at his modern dinner table, "before you eat anything else, eat these five grains of corn and think of the hardships which the Pilgrims overcame."

Traditionally a merry feast-day, Thanksgiving is also what its name indicates, one of gratitute for blessings. With all that we find amiss in the world around us, there is much for which to be glad.

LAME DUCK PROBLEM

President-elect Eisenhower will have no real power to make policy decisions until his inauguration in January. Yet decisions made before that time may affect the course of his entire administration. On the other hand President Truman is in the unfortunate position of having to meet current problems with decisions which may be reversed as soon as the new administration takes power.

As individuals both President Truman and General Eisenhower must be commended for their efforts to cooperate in an orderly transfer of administration. By stating his support of the current American stand on the repatriation of prisoners of war Eisenhower has strengthened the position of our representatives at the UN. Conferences between representatives of the present administration and the Republicans on the budget and other internal problems will prove helpful.

But other countries are still reluctant to commit themselves to agreements with American representatives who may be replaced in two months. On internal affairs the Republicans do not wish to take responsibility for what the Democrats decide to do while the Democrats are not inclined to make lame duck decisions which will bring credit to the Republicans if they succeed and blame to the Democrats if they fail.

It is obvious that something should be done to shorten the awkward period that ensues between the election of a new president and his inauguration. The processes of government must continue smoothly and without interruption. If changes in our election laws are necessary to accomplish this then those changes should be made without delay.

RUSSIAN WRITING DECAY

Even under Communism, it is not possible to eat one's cake and have it, too. The regimentation of Russian authors has been so severe that they are ceasing to produce anything which the average citizen would care to read. So eagle-eyed have been the critics, looking for possible deviations from the true Marxist line, that the official literary magazines are beginning to rebel.

Soviet Art recently published an article by Nikolai Virta, a playwright of high standing in official circles. He attacks the deadening influence of the censorship, saying that it leads to the destruction of effective plays through the "wild, rabbit-like fear of the hypothetical possibility of a mistake, mortal fear of taking any risk." This fear of possible consequences has silenced Mikhail Sholikhov, author of the well-known novel, "And Quiet Flows the Don."

Even Pravda, the most authoritative of all Russian newspapers, while rebuking Virta for impetuosity, admits that "some playwrights feel they are almost forbidden to criticize the bad and the negative in our life."

As long as critics are rewarded for discovering doctrinal flaws in other people's activities, and as long as the ruling tyrants continue to be merciless to all self-expression, so long will Russian literature remain as unreadable as an official bulletin.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

I note that "The Washington Post" wishes to revive the Presidential commission to investigate internal security and individual rights. Mr. Truman had appointed such a commission headed by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz which came to nothing. "The Washington Post" takes advantage of this discussion to side-swipe Senator Pat McCarran in the following words:

". . . (The Nimitz commission's) function was frustrated by Senator McCarran, the powerful head of the Senate Judiciary Committee and the self-appointed grand arbiter of loyalty and security. He blocked legislation passed by the House exempting the commission members from the conflict-of-interest statutes."

The McCarran Committee, now to be headed by Senator Homer Ferguson, has worked out the pattern of subversion in our government. While Senator McCarthy made charges, the McCarran Committee proved them. It is difficult to understand why any American newspaper would attack those who serve America.

Most Congressional investigations would have been unnecessary had the FBI been permitted to perform its proper functions. Between Harlan Stone and James McGranery, the attorneys general ignored the FBI, its capacity to gather evidence, and the precision of its service. It is no longer a secret that the FBI was disregarded in all cases that involved subversives and spies. It was not a matter of the attorneys general being Communist or pro-Communist, which they were not; nor were they less patriotic than other Americans: It was rather that in any administration of government in this country or in any country, those in power develop vested interests in their own mistakes. One error leads to another.

The new attorney general, Herbert Brownell, Jr., will have a wonderful opportunity to clean up this whole sorry mess. No Presidential commissions are needed to discover what is already known, namely, that Soviet Russia has invaded our country to corrupt our own sons and daughters that they might act as preparers for our enemies.

The idea of a President's commission, so far as I can discover, was first proposed in a speech by Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., chairman of the National Executive Committee of the Americans For Democratic Action, the Socialist Party which was defeated with Adlai Stevenson in the last election. In this address, delivered in 1950, the FBI was violently attacked. It is a curious attack because it denies the function of a police organization to gather evidence against those who are actively engaged in a conspiracy to destroy the United States. Actually, the object of the speech was to destroy the FBI.

Take the instance of Frank Carter Bancroft, an American in the employ of the United Nations. He says that he is an Episcopalian minister but does not work at it. As an ordained priest, he understands the moral values of an oath. In his testimony before the McCarran Committee, he fenced brilliantly with the examiners. Finally Senator Willis Smith asked him:

"Let us put the question this way: Suppose this committee or a court . . . was to say that you should answer a question, as a citizen of the United States, and Mr. Lie or somebody in proper authority at the United Nations said you should not answer it because it was contrary to the United Nations policy. Which would you obey, the United States or the United Nations?"

Mr. Bancroft replied:

"Sir, I would be on the spot, and I would be very grieved that any situation would arise in which an American would have to choose loyalty between his country and a member state of which it is such an important—I mean an international organization of which it is such an important member. I can't conceive of such a situation arising."

You would imagine that all he would have to say is that he placed his mother country first. He declined in page after page of testimony to declare for America. His excuse was that he is an international servant. He answers the usual question in the usual way:

"Senator Smith. Why do you not tell us whether or not you have been or are a Communist?

"Mr. Bancroft. Because under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, sir, I think I have the privilege not to do so, because it might incriminate me."

With such Americans at large, it would appear that the FBI needs to be strengthened and that the Department of Justice should cooperate in treating subversion as an active crime.

That Body of Yours

OFFICE PSYCHIATRY

When a patient has a group of symptoms that greatly resemble a real or organic disease, yet no organic disease is present, it is called a functional disease.

Functional symptoms need treatment the same as real or organic disease and the physician has to prove to the patient that no organic disease is present and that his symptoms are caused by his emotional disturbances. However, it sometimes happens that an underlying real or organic disease is present, the symptoms are not very severe but the patient's fears increase the symptoms. This makes the case very difficult to treat.

In addition to having their physician or a psychiatrist explain how emotions can cause symptoms the same as if caused by organic disease the patient with functional symptoms needs daily reassurance about his illness.

Some years ago the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene put out a set of explanations to cover most situations likely to confront these patients with functional illnesses. One or more of these explanations have been found useful in enabling the patient to tie his symptoms to them.

Among these explanations and suggestions are the following:

1. Pay attention. Ability to think of your present task results in mental efficiency.
2. Cultivate courage. Timidity, fearfulness, lack of self-confidence show need of mental hygiene.
3. Seek self-control. Not by repressing or holding back hate, fear, anger, love and other emotions but by diversion or turning these emotions into other channels by wholesome activity.
4. Live in the world of people. Avoidance of others, inability to adopt to groups, lack of thought for others, prevents the cultivation of mental hygiene.
5. Develop serenity (one of Osler's great suggestions for himself). Confusion in work, play, and study; conflict of ambitions with achievements, conflict of thoughts and feelings, lead to lack of mental health.
6. Live life. Escaping from unpleasant situations through evading them, building up defenses, avoiding life is poor hygiene.
7. Keep well. Mental health is related to physical health.
8. Train your child early. Tantrums, jealousy, whining, finicky eating, irregular sleeping, lack of toilet habits, overdependence (on parents) show the need of mental hygiene.

I believe at this time in our civilization we can all study and make use of the above suggestions with real help to ourselves.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Oregon's independent Sen. Wayne Morse paid an unusual call on the Bureau of Internal Revenue the other day. Most people fight shy of this tax-collecting agency; some people get heart failure when its agents even telephone.

But the Oregon senator ambled down to the bureau and said he wanted to meet with the officials who were running it. Accordingly, Harold Swartz, acting assistant commissioner, sat down with him, plus David Gatzenmeier and Frank Cohen of the chief counsel's office, plus E. I. McLarney and Leonard Boyd of the audit division.

"I would like to ask the Bureau of Internal Revenue," Senator Morse told them, "to make a careful audit of my income-tax returns."

The tax officials couldn't believe their ears. The bureau makes it an unwritten rule not to look too closely at the tax returns of members of Congress. So for a senator to come in and ask for an audit was revolutionary.

Morse went on to explain that, when he was elected to the Senate in 1945, he had a campaign deficit of about $16,000 which had been paid partly by him, partly by contributions from friends; and that recently Oregon politicians had been circulating charges that the handling of this deficit had violated the tax laws.

He said the money was not paid to him, and he was certain the tax laws had not been violated. But to make sure, he asked that his tax returns be thoroughly audited.

"But we can't audit them prior to 1949," said Assistant Commissioner Swartz. "The statute of limitations has expired."

"Then I'll waive the statute of limitations."

"You'll what?" asked Swartz incredulously. "Well, we'll have to have written authorization for that."

"You'll get it," replied Morse, who promptly went back to his office and wrote a letter to Acting Commissioner John S. Graham, which stated:

"I respectfully request that you consider this letter as being my official request for an audit of my income tax returns since I have been in the Senate, starting with the 1945 returns."

Note—When this columnist in 1946 suggested to Senator Morse that members of Congress and all top government officials file a statement of outside fees received, income from law practice, stocks and commodities purchased, he immediately introduced a bill to this effect. Had it passed, the Nixon fund would have been required to be registered so the public could know about it before Nixon's nomination to the important office of vice president.

Washington Pipeline

Lame-duck Senator McFarland of Arizona is planning a final fling at the taxpayers' expense. He is making arrangements for a round-the-world trip during his last month as senator—Senator Ferguson of Michigan is so anxious to take over the Senate Appropriations Committee that he can't wait. He is second to Senator Bridges of New Hampshire in seniority. But, if Bridges accepts the job of majority leader, there's a chance he will be too busy to head the appropriations Committee too. So Ferguson has been pestering Bridges' office to find out whether he is giving up the Appropriations chairmanship. . . . Secretary of Defense Lovett has invited his successor, Charles E. Wilson, to attend the North Atlantic Pact Conference in Paris Dec. 15. . . . General Eisenhower has invited Army Chief of Staff General Collins to fly to Korea with him—after Collins hinted broadly for an invitation. . . . President Truman is pleading with Defense Mobilizer Joe Fowler not to quit until Ike is inaugurated. The President wants the mobilization program going full steam until Ike takes over.... Eisenhower will appoint a special commission, headed by Vannevar Bush, to study the reorganization of the Defense Department. . . . Senator Lodge of Massachusetts has told friends he won't be in the Cabinet but will probably serve as an assistant president and trouble shooter.

Strange Investigators

Penny-pincher John Taber, new GOP boss of the House Appropriations Committee, will bellow like a wounded bull when he hears it, but two of his investigators have gone on a spending spree in Europe and Africa.

They are John Donnelly and Tim Donovan, who were supposed to investigate air-base scandals in North Africa. However, their military liaison man, Lt. Com. J. T. Paxson, reported back to the Pentagon that the two investigators were gallivanting around Switzerland — a country where there are no air bases to investigate.

Commander Paxon also complained that the investigators had run through $2,500 expense money in less than a month. This money was put up by the Defense Department from a special fund for congressional investigations.

On top of this, Donnelly had demanded that the investigators be permitted to inspect top-secret documents. This was denied until a routine check could be made of Congressman Taber's investigators. When Donnelly raised a fuss, however, a temporary clearance was granted.

Later, the Defense Department's check on the investigators revealed that Tim Donovan had once been convicted of forgery, had jumped parole, spent another 60 days in jail for drunken driving. Yet he reported on his application that he had never been convicted of a crime.

So the Defense Department revoked Donovan's temporary clearance.

Diplomatic Pouch

Prince Bernhard has a secret yen to sit at the controls of an American "Flying Boxcar." So the Dutch government has sounded out the air force to see if his royal highness can ride up front in a "Flying Boxcar" during his visit to the U. S. A. The prince has been promised a royal ride. . . . Secretary of State Acheson has hinted, perhaps as a joke, that he might be willing to accept the job of new secretary-general of the United Nations. Reporters asked him confidentially who his candidate was to succeed Trygve Lie "How about me?" Acheson said with a grin. "I'll be out of a job in January." . . . If Trygve Lie goes through with his plans to resign, it's more likely that the new secretary-general will be Nasrullah Entezam, former Iranian ambassador to Washington. . . . John Foster Dulles will bring into the State Department Douglas MacArthur II, nephew of the famous general. Young MacArthur is a State Department career officer who served as political adviser to Eisenhower in Europe. He's also son-in-law of Vice President Barkley. . . . The Turkish government has formally offered to turn over part of its territory to serve as headquarters for the Middle East Defense Pact. The Turks propose the headquarters be located in the strategic town of Iskenderum, along the Syrian border—not too far from Russia.

Publication of Letter Would Have Clarified Eisenhower Statement Reds Distort

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 26—The mischief that a garbled remark can do to international relations was never more dramatically illustrated than by the way General Eisenhower's conversation with the members of a delegation of visitors at his pre-convention headquarters in Chicago last July was distorted.

Somebody in the Eisenhower staff setup is partly responsible for the fact that the misrepresentation in question was not promptly refuted last summer. For not only has the Communist press abroad constantly exaggerated the remark attributed to General Eisenhower but repeated attacks were made by Democratic spokesmen during the recent campaign as they charged that the general had been discourteous to the French people in his comments at Chicago.

When the general's explicit denial was written to Rene Pleven, French minister of defense, last August no copy of that letter unfortunately was made available to the press in this country or in France.

French newspapers only recently have been able to carry the full text of General Eisenhower's letter which is dated August 13 last. So far as this correspondent has been able to learn the Eisenhower communication has never been published in the United States.

Here is a translation of that letter from the French text:

"Denver, Colo., August 13, 1952

"My Dear Rene,

"I am so tired of seeing distorted in the press the so-called declarations that I made on France that I believe I ought to send you this little word to tell you exactly what there is to it.

"In the course of a discussion on the importance of spiritual and moral forces in democracy, I called attention to the fact that some of my Socialist friends in France had told me that 'half the French are free-thinkers.' While this expression was not translated in precise terms of agnosticism or atheism, it implied that about 50 per cent of the French are not influenced by religious instruction and that, consequently, the church, in France, is not a particularly useful force in the struggle against communism.

"Every time that I have repeated that statement, I have invariably added that I did not believe personally that the French people rejected the idea of giving religion a place in a free government, and I have made clear that it unhappily they did, this would explain some of the political troubles in France. Clearly, if there were such a general lack of faith even at the base of religious thought, then the support of any government whatever based on the equality and the dignity of man would be weakened.

"Some newspapers have published that I was personally responsible for the statement that half of France was atheist. That is false. I have never spoken of France other than in affectionate terms in the fervent hope that, spiritually and intellectually, she would rally 100 per cent behind the flag of freedom and against communism. If she does, she will take again the first place in Europe.

"Quite recently, during a telephone conversation with one of my former collaborators from SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe), I tried to explain that, but I wanted also to tell you directly because, as my best friend in the French government, that might be useful to you.

"To you personally I send my best wishes and my warm regards.

"Give, I pray you, my respects to Mme. Pleven.

Dwight D. Eisenhower

"P. S.—I have found nothing agreeable in passing from the military to the political world. Moreover, I have never worked so hard as now!"

As can be inferred from the foregoing letter, there is an intimate friendship between General Eisenhower and former Premier Rene Pleven, who is now French minister of defense. None of the high officials of France was perturbed by the misquotations which were spread around France by the Communists because they had known General Eisenhower's friendly attitude toward France for a long time. But these officials were powerless to express themselves to the French people, because the incident had arisen during a political campaign in the United States and they are very careful not to meddle in the political affairs of this country. The French, therefore, have welcomed the printing at last of the full text of the Eisenhower letter in the Paris press because it sweeps away a source of Communist propaganda which is constantly bent on bringing about friction between France and America.

There is every reason to believe that under the Eisenhower administration there will be a closer feeling and better understanding with France than ever before. Already in the conferences which Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France has had in New York with his American friends he has learned that under the Eisenhower-Dulles policies the United States is not likely to be found assisting those elements in the world which, by overemphasizing the Tunisian problem, for example, are bent on keeping France and America at loggerheads, when they actually desire to work together as allies. This is the traditional role of the two countries from the time of the foundation of the American republic.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have had two long, earnest interviews with DeWitt Wallace, the editor of Reader's Digest, regarding the publication in his magazine of an article extolling Irving Brown, a political agent of the AF of L in Europe, as an exponent of American political ideals.

Not to go into detail again, Brown will be remembered as an "educator" on the staff of David Dubinsky's Garment Workers' Union, and as a disciple of Jay Lovestone, a pioneer American Communist. Lovestone broke with Stalin and the Kremlin and established his own brand of communism in the United States in the guise of a radical, violent left wing of the American Socialist party. Irving Brown was one of Lovestone's principal lieutenants in this violent movement and was an enrolled member of this communist group. It was known as a committee rather than as a party.

Mr. Wallace is disturbed. He contends that his magazine, by incorrect implication and, therefore, unfairly, has been charged with endorsing a communist movement in Europe.

He insists that even though Lovestone wrote a long tract in 1936 advocating "unity" in the Communist movement throughout the world, he later retracted, recanted and changed his position. Wallace does not offer any documentary evidence that Brown has changed and when I wrote Brown a request for an interview last winter in Paris, Brown's answer was an abusive letter refusing to see me at all. However, Wallace takes the position that inasmuch as Lovestone has "abandoned communism" therefore, Brown, by fair inference, also should be regarded as an apostate. More than once Mr. Wallace made the point that persons who had fallen into the error of communism long ago should not be required to make public confession of error.

I disagree. I contend that a man who has embraced and worked for communism, of any sect, at any time, does little enough to declare his repudiation and should be held to his last known affirmation. Although his last known position has been prominently published in the form of excerpts from a periodical of which he was an editor, Brown has remained silent in the face of many invitations to correct any error.

Mr. Wallace is preparing to notify those readers of the Digest, who have taken exception to the laudation of Irving Brown, that Lovestone formally recanted and abandoned communism in December, 1939, in testimony given to the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Wallace believes that, if Lovestone speaks for Brown — and Lovestone has been publicized without challenge as Brown's chief in this European political mission — then Lovestone's recantation goes for Brown, too.

But the flaw is that Lovestone never did recant.

Mr. Wallace is not as well informed as he should be. He is more trustful than he should be. He seems not to have taken the pains to read the plain statement of Lovestone's "present political position" to the House committee. This statement does not bear out his wishful belief that Lovestone did repudiate communism.

Here is the gist of the matter:

Dr. J. B. Matthews, the original "fellow traveler" (and, I say again, our best authority on Communist fronts and fellow-travelers) was conducting the examination of Jay Lovestone. They were dissecting a pamphlet written by Lovestone, entitled "New Frontiers for Labor." Matthews asked the witness:

"Does this pamphlet contain

Using Leftover Rice

Here is a good trick with left-over cooked rice: Put in a large strainer and dip into boiling water to take the refrigerator chill off of it, then drain well. Melt a little butter or margarine in a skillet and add curry powder to taste; add the drained rice and heat and stir so all grains are an even color.

Law Enforcement Takes Professional Trend Clubs Hear

How law enforcement work is being brought to a professional level was explained by Thomas W. Curran, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, of New York, at a joint meeting of the Kingston Lions and Kiwanis clubs at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday.

Curran, a member of the FBI since 1940 and specialist in problems of local law enforcement, termed law enforcement officials "guardians of a way of life that has got to continue." He pointed out that emphasis today is on preventing crime as well as capturing criminals.

Colleges Offer Courses

The work has progressed toward a professional level, especially in the last 10 years, he said. Today many of the nation's major colleges offer courses in law enforcement, and various field training programs are available including those set up and staffed by the FBI.

Much of Curran's talk dealt with the characteristics of "confidence men," showing how they work.

Curran was introduced by Special Agent John Lupton of the Kingston office, successor to Louis Hurley. Lupton, a graduate of Ithaca College, has been a member of the FBI since 1947.

Reports on Exposition

Lupton was introduced by Robert M. Peebles, acting program chairman for the day. Robert E. Teetsel, Lions Club president, presided and welcomed members of the Kiwanis Club, whom the Lions invited to attend since the regular Kiwanis meeting day this week falls on Thanksgiving Day. Raymond W. Garraghan, Kiwanis president, responded to the welcome.

William Stall, chairman of the 1953 "Kingston Area on Parade" industrial and mercantile exposition and automobile show, announced that two-thirds of the available booth space had already been reserved by exhibitors.

Italian Geologist Dies

Genoa, Italy, Nov. 26 (AP)—Gaetano Rovereto, a noted Italian Geologist and honorary professor of the Universities of Genoa and La Plata, Argentina, died last night. He was 82.

Speaks Thursday At Annual Uptown Holiday Service

DR. CLYDE H. SNELL

The United Protestant Thanksgiving Day service for the uptown churches will be conducted Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock in the sanctuary of the Old Dutch Church. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Donald E. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will conduct the worship.

The Thanksgiving meditation will be given by the Rev. Dr. Clyde H. Snell, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. His topic will be Thanks Be to God. Donald Romme will sing the offertory solo.

The united service of Thanksgiving has been a custom in the Kingston community for more than a generation and the invitation is made this year again for all persons to make their Thanksgiving worship in compliance with the traditions of a Day of National Thanksgiving.

Poughkeepsie Man Loses His Appeal

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—Joseph L. Paonessa of Poughkeepsie is to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison the week of Jan. 12 for the "thought-control" murder of a 14-year-old boy in 1950.

The Court of Appeals ordered Paonessa's execution yesterday.

The 41-year-old mechanic had been scheduled to die last June 5, but was granted a reprieve to allow an appeal of his first-degree murder conviction to the U. S. Supreme Court.

That court refused to consider the appeal because, it said, Paonessa has failed to file his papers within the required period.

Paonessa was convicted at Poughkeepsie June 5, 1951, for shooting Robert E. Leonard on Oct. 16, 1950, in a farm shack at Milan, north of Poughkeepsie.

Paonessa contended that Alfred Von Wolfersdorf, then the 66-year-old landlord of the Leonard family, had "thought-controlled" his actions. He said the older man had hated the youth because he slammed doors and made other noises.

Von Wolfersdorf was indicted with Paonessa, but was adjudged insane. He was committed to Matteawan State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Paonessa's murder conviction was upheld by the Court of Appeals last April 17.

They'll Get Good Dinner

Tokyo, Nov. 26 (AP)—The U. S. Army—with its wholesale connections—will give American troops in Japan and Korea a Thanksgiving Day turkey dinner at a cost of $1.50 each. Maj. Leland Eckion of Fair Oaks, Calif., said the same turkey dinner in the U. S. would cost $5.

Defense Office Moves

The regional office of the Small Defense Plants Administration has moved to 2 Park avenue, New York, from its former offices at 2 West 43rd street, it was announced today by Casper H. Citron, regional director of Small Defense Plants Administration. The move was necessitated by the contemplated razing of the Zeigler building for new construction in the very near future. The New York Regional Office of the Small Defense Plants Administration is responsible for servicing small business in the states of New York and New Jersey and in Fairfield county, Conn.

Bum Has Disappeared

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 26 (AP)—The local draft board is convinced a Worcester woman, whose name they did not divulge, thinks her husband is a bum. They asked the woman for help in locating the husband and got this reply: "The bum disappeared. But don't quit looking for the bum. The bum is a great fighter, so good he won his last bout with his 90-pound wife. The bum will be terrific against the Koreans. I hope you catch up with the bum."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD S. THIBAUT, Jr.

Hutty's Raise Own Flock for Holiday

Woodstock, Nov. 26—With the turkey feast looming large in almost every household in the nation, everyone is happily concerned with the eating of the birds, but few have the courage to raise them. Last spring, merely for something to do in his spare time, William Hutty purchased six baby turkeys from Fred Shultis of Bearsville. They were then about the size of a leghorn hen, according to Hutty.

He built the coop high off the ground according to directions, fed and watered them throughout the summer and fall. Instead of the usual troubles encountered in raising the birds, the Huttys derived a considerable amount of amusement from them.

"The birds are famed for their stupidity," said Hutty, "but they can distinguish color. They were furious one morning when I went out to feed them in a new plaid shirt."

Since the Hutty home is situated on a rise of land on the Glasco Turnpike overlooking the village, visitors during the summer frequently stop to look at the view. Once they had stopped they immediately noticed the turkey coop near the road.

"Our turkeys had a great many visitors this summer," said Mrs. Hutty, "and they seemed to be very much interested in them."

When killed the birds ranged in weight from 15 to 26 pounds, and all of the six were raised to maturity.

Indian Art . . .

1796. In his native state, as a boy he led an outdoor life, frequently hunting and fishing with the Indians of his neighborhood. Those experiences proved to be a determining factor in choosing his ultimate career, for the stories and legends of the redskins had strongly captivated his youthful imagination.

His formal education was scanty, but at 19, he managed to study law and in the succeeding years was engaged in a lucrative practice. Apart from being a lawyer, he pursued painting as a hobby. In his spare time, he grew so proficient that he won a notable reputation as an amateur artist. In later years, he moved to Philadelphia to devote himself to portrait painting, subsequently going on to Washington, where he executed portraits of several well-known figures of the day, including one of Dolly Madison, wife of the President.

What he had learned of Indians in his boyhood, and in Philadelphia when he saw a delegation of picturesque aborigines in full regalia, cast such a potent spell that he longed to live among them in their Far West habitat. In later years, he recorded in his book, that he wished to use his art and so much of his labors of his future life as might be required in rescuing from oblivion the looks and customs of the vanishing races of native men in America. So he resolved to devote the remainder of his years to this purpose.

Away to the wilds of Western America he traveled and spent his summers among the Indians, making sketches of the most distinctive characters and scenes. But in the winters, he made the finished pictures and sold them so advantageously, that he was able to save enough money to carry him through the next summer to live among the Red Men. Catlin was a diligent and prolific worker and turned out 600 paintings which illustrated his travels and experiences among the natives of the Great Plains, the Great Lakes, and the Southeast. A large proportion were portraits of men, women, and children in the typical tribal costumes of that period. Also there were vivid scenes depicting native villages, hunting expeditions, games and religious ceremonies.

Monarch butterflies migrate like birds. They are strong fliers and are able to go many miles at a time.

Newhouse Says Suit Unfounded

Syracuse, Nov. 26 (AP)—Publisher Samuel I. Newhouse terms "wholly without foundation" the charges in a million-dollar suit alleging restraint of trade by himself, two of his newspapers and a radio-TV station he controls.

Newhouse made the statement yesterday in commenting on the $1,088,112 suit filed Monday in Federal District Court at Utica by operators of Syracuse Radio Station WNDR.

Newhouse publishes the Syracuse Herald-Journal and the Post-Standard, and controls the Central New York Broadcasting Company, which operates Stations WSYR and WSYR-TV.

Conspiracy Charged

The Syracuse Broadcasting Corp., operators of WNDR, alleged in its suit that the Newhouse interests had "engaged in combination and conspiracy in unreasonable restraint" of interstate commerce and trade. ....

The complainants charged that the two daily newspapers and WSYR had "publicized numerous rumors and false statements" that WNDR "lacked stability;" "spread false and malicious rumors through the advertising trade," and "distorted news items pertaining to the plaintiff."

Newhouse's statement said:

"The charges made by the Syracuse Broadcasting Corporation, owner of WNDR, in the broadside suit filed in Federal Court in Utica are wholly without foundation.

"WNDR as well as the other radio stations in Syracuse have been operating in a radio-crowded field. In addition to the WSYR station there are three other radio stations besides WNDR. These are WOLF, WAGE and WFBL. There is also WHEN-TV, the Columbia broadcasting television outlet. Far from being a monopoly the radio field in Syracuse is, in fact, wide open.

Furnishes News

The Syracuse newspapers have operated on a basis of friendly relations with all of these stations. The Herald-Journal furnishes news broadcasts without cost to WOLF, a completely independent station. The election return services of the Post-Standard were offered on Election Day to all radio and Television stations gratis.

"WHEN-TV and WAGE took advantage of this offer. WNDR did not, but it could have if it so desired. The daily listings of programs of all local radio stations, including WNDR, are published without charge in the Herald-Journal and the Post-Standard together with highlight columns on the day's offerings, including WNDR.

"Contrary to the claims of WNDR there is the liveliest kind of competition between the Herald-Journal, the Post-Standard and WSYR as well as generally among the newspapers and radio and television stations in Syracuse."

Newhouse, a New York city man, also controls newspapers in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Oregon.

French Decorate AP Correspondent

Hanoi, Indo-China, Nov. 26 (AP)—The French High Command today awarded the Croix De Guerre with Bronze Star to Larry Allen veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, in recognition of his front-line coverage of the Indo-Chinese War against Communist-led Vietminh rebels.

Gen. Gonzales De Linares, French commander of northern Vietnam, in presenting the decoration said it was for Allen's reporting of the war "without fear of danger" and in recognition of his "scrupulous concern for objectivity which contributed to giving a vivid and exact picture of the severe combat delivered by the French-Vietnamese Army against the Vietminh Communists."

14 Months in Country

Allen, 44, who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1941 for his wartime reports from the British Mediterranean Fleet, has been in Indo-China for 14 months. A foreign correspondent for the Associated Press since 1938, he served in Czechoslovakia and Italy before the outbreak of World War 2.

After the war, Allen was assigned to Warsaw, Poland, until 1949. He was then sent to Israel and late in 1950 to Singapore, where he was injured in riots in December of that year. After his recovery he was assigned to the Indo-Chinese fighting.

Born at Mount Savage, Md., Allen started as a reporter on the Baltimore News and later worked on other newspapers before joining the Associated Press in 1933.

Truck Stalled on 9W

A truck operated by Caesar Rocco of 627 Hamilton street, Schenectady, broke down on Route 9W near the Rondout Creek bridge last evening and the operator notified the sheriff's office that although he had flares out, he feared for an accident and requested additional flares. Children Wait in Vain

Baltimore, Nov. 26 (AP)—Three young children waited 15½ hours for "Mommy" to wake up, while upstairs in the bedroom both parents were dead from shotgun blasts. Police Peter T. Lang, 32, apparently shot his wife Katherine, 29, before turning the weapon on himself. A neighbor told police she heard shots about 11 p. m. Monday night. Yesterday afternoon a visitor dropped in and found Peter, Jr., 5, John, 4, and Sharon, 2, sitting on the living room floor in their nightclothes. One of the boys whispered, "Mommy's asleep upstairs." Police said they found Mrs. Lang in bed with a sheet over her, shot in the chest and arm. Lang was found in the doorway of the bedroom with a wound in the jaw and a shotgun lying beside him.

Eisenhower Has

as the GOP candidate, the publisher continued, was the result of cleavages within the party. He said "a queer assortment of millionaire socialists in the east brought about the nomination of Eisenhower by sharp practice which caused great defection."

Mentions Third Party

McCormick also mentioned for the first time since the election his thoughts on a third party. The publisher, a lifelong Republican, advocated such a third party before the election; but his Chicago Tribune in the later stages of the campaign endorsed Eisenhower "with reluctance."

"Advocates of a third party this year were embarrassed for lack of a candidate," McCormick said at New Haven. "• • • if a third party is to be formed it will have to be formed before the (next) conventions, and a candidate will have to be found who can accept defeats in 1956 • • • with the idea of having a victorious party in 1960 • • •."

The Chicago Tribune supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

Honored to Have Them

In a statement accompanying his announcements about Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. Priest, Eisenhower called them "outstanding women." He said "I am honored to have them participate in the affairs of the government of the United States."

The federal security agency directs government social and welfare work. Eisenhower described it as a "vitally important position." In view of its importance, he said, Mrs. Hobby will be asked to attend cabinet meetings although the post does not now have cabinet rank.

Both Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. Priest are 47 years old. Mrs. Hobby has two children, Mrs. Priest three.

Both Have Experience

Mrs. Hobby served some six years in the Texas House of Legislature as parliamentarian. She filled various editorial and executive offices on the Houston Post and became its editor and publisher last month. During World War 2, she was head of the Women's Army Corps with the rank of colonel.

Mrs. Priest, the incoming treasurer, said her interest in politics dates back to childhood. She has been a Republican national committeewoman from Utah since 1944.

Summerfield, 53, said in Washington yesterday he will leave his post as GOP national chairman around inauguration time, Jan. 20. Summerfield, who has spent most of his working life in the automobile trade, was Eisenhower's personal choice for party chairman.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Steels hit a fast pace today in a higher stock market.

With gains of fractions to around a point, the steels stood ahead as the best of the major divisions. The remainder of the list moved over a range of fractions lower to around a point higher.

Trading was not particularly heavy after the opening rush and attained a rate well below yesterday's 1,930,000 shares.

Railroads, recent leaders in higher markets, were ragged today. Motors moved narrowly. Coppers were lower. Oils were steady. Golds were mixed. Chemicals came up after a laggard start. Aircrafts were mostly higher.

Union Pacific provided some fireworks. Just before the expected dividend announcement, the stock ran up a gain of 4¼, but it fell away for a net loss right after directors declared an extra of $1, as was done a year ago, and the regularly quarterly dividend of $1.25—making payments this year $6, the same as last.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

The regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, JOUAM, will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A social hour with refreshments will follow the business session. All members are requested to attend.

Air Force Gives

believe the charge against Guiseppe.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, Far East Air Forces public information officer, said Cascio was accused only of trying to sell the secrets, but "he must have known anyone who would buy them certainly would be an enemy."

Cascio is held under maximum guard at Johnson Air Force Base near Tokyo. His court martial trial probably will be held within five weeks at Taegu, Korea, where Cascio was stationed.

The air force apparently has clamped a complete news blackout on Cascio. Newsmen were refused admittance to the floodlit, barbed wire stockade. They were told, "no photographs, no interviews, no admittance."

Fifth Air Force censors in Seoul said every story on Cascio had to be referred directly to General Nuckols for clearance. Nuckols is not a censor.

Ray Bushell, Cascio's civilian attorney, said the airman would plead innocent.

Capt. Miles Lewis of the air force will assist the defense.

Could Serve for Life

Conviction would carry a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

Cascio is also charged with illegally accepting $46,000 in military currency from a Korean civilian. Nuckols said the currency deal was not directly linked to the charge of trying to sell U. S. military secrets, and he didn't know how much Cascio might have profited from it.

Agents of the air force Office of Special Investigation (OSI) arrested Cascio two months ago after a six weeks investigation.

He is accused of trying to sell information on the F-86E Sabre jet.

Bushell said the file of a preliminary investigation was five or six inches thick and included 20 hours of tape-recorded testimony of Koreans and OSI agents.

The OSI handles criminal investigation and counter-intelligence. An OSI officer said, "we're sort of like the FBI."

An agent who directed the investigation described Cascio as a "short, dark-haired man with pleasant features. He's about 5 feet-3 or 4, an American of Italian descent."

Bushell said Cascio "was quite shocked when this came over the radio. He had thought the air force would keep it quiet."

An air force officer said investigators believe Cascio changed the $46,000 in military payment certificates into money orders and bank drafts, then returned them to the Korean. The Korean was not identified.

Hurt in Traffic Mishap

Miss Blanche Long, 33, of RD, Kingston, suffered bruises and abrasions of the knees in a traffic mishap on Broadway near Dederick street today. Officer Carl Janasiewicz reported at 11:05 a. m. that Miss Long came in contact with the side of a car owned by Alva S. Staples, of 72 Highland avenue, and driven south on Broadway by Oscar J. Waleur, 63, of 70 Lincoln street.

Oil Lease Buyer

L. Griffith. He still is its president. The prospectus says he formerly was in the oil brokerage business in Mt. Vernon, Ill., and that in 1950 he opened a similar business in Denver.

Had 1,000 Shares

At the time the company was founded, the commission was told, it had 1,000 shares, valued at $1 each. Griffith and his sister, Mildred, owned 966 of them.

The company specialized in buying and selling oil leases, and apparently business was good.

On Jan. 31, 1951, the company came up with 315,000 shares at no par value. Griffith sold 95,000 of these to New York underwriters at $10 a share, or for $950,000.

Shortly afterwards, the stock was split three ways. But still, the prospectus said, "common shares have been traded at a range of 6 low and 7 7/8 high."

Has Half Million Shares

As near as can be told from the prospectus, Griffith still has around a half million shares in this company that started out as a thousand dollar investment. If that's true, and the stock is selling for $6, he has around three million dollars of stock left.

And what are the assets?

The prospectus says the company now holds leases on almost five million acres of land scattered from North and South Dakota on through western Canada.

The prospectus, which candidly admits it's all speculative, is candid about the oil leases, too.

They're all on unproven land, it says.

The SEC has three weeks in which to decide whether or not to permit Canadian Prospects, Ltd., to peddle its stock.

Snow Clamps Ti[illegible]

ern Iowa Grover Hurley, 67, Westboro, Mo., was killed during a sonwstorm. The car in which he was riding and a train collided at a city crossing.

Four deaths were attributed to the storm in Nebraska.

In Amarillo, Texas, a railroad fireman was killed when he slipped on ice as he hopped aboard his moving locomotive and fell under the wheels.

But the storm proved a blessing to farmers in drouth-stricken areas of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, providing a thorough soaking for their parched fields.

Salamanca, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—Somebody here is in for a rough time when he sits down to his Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow, unless there is a quick pay-off on this advertisement in today's Salamanca Republican-Press: "Lost: One set of false teeth."

Test Will Be Used Against Curb Hogs

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—It used to be road-hogs. Now it's curb-hogs. New York is determined to exterminate them.

Scene of the curb-hog killing will be First and Second avenues. Within 30 days a test plan will be put into effect which won't permit a motorist to pause long enough in rush hours even to change his mind.

Traffic Commissioner T. T. Wiley announced the plan yesterday. The police department says it doesn't have enough men to compete with all day parkers on those arteries. So, under the plan, not even trucks will be permitted to deliver between 7 and 10 a. m. and 4 and 7 p. m.

Aga Says He's Not Rich

Cannes, France, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Aga Khan, Moslem religious leader and sportsman who is reputedly one of the world's wealthiest men, said today he is not as rich as some people think. He said "some Englishmen" had estimated his annual income at the equivalent of $34,300,000, "but they added a lot of zeros to that." Asked how many excess zeros were in such a figure, he replied: "Perhaps two."

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Christmas Lights To Go on Dec. 2

Ellenville, Nov. 26—Reuben A. Benson, chairman of the Christmas lighting committee, has announced that the contract had been made with the company which installs the lights and garlands over Ellenville streets, and as at presently stipulated. the lights should go on for the first time Dec. 2.

From then on, Benson said, Ellenville will be a fairyland of lights, and it is expected the village will again have the honor and reputation of being the most beautifully decorated of any locality over a wide area. The lights and decorations, Benson said, would remain on throughout the Christmas season until Jan. 1.

All the preparatory work had been done, Benson said, and a full report was made to the Noonday Club at its regular meeting.

Benson also reported that he would like to correct an impression that seems to have been circulated. Christmas lighting is not done exclusively by the Noonday Club. This attractive feature is really a creation of the merchants and business men of the village, with the Noonday Club acting as sponsor and providing the machinery necessary to handle all the work of preparation.

Assisting Benson are Donald Sprague, Julian Raper, Art Aaron and Lloyd Wilklow, though he thought additional members would be added to the committee.

Santa Plans Visit

The work now remaining, he said, was to proceed with the soliciting of funds, and he anticipated that the decorations and lights add so much to the attractiveness of Ellenville, and encourage so many people to come here that no one doubts their business building possibilities.

Benson also announced that Santa Claus will again visit Ellenville for several weeks, possibly starting on Dec. 12. In addition to greeting children on the streets and elsewhere, Santa Claus also will visit churches for their Christmas parties, and be available to any organization requiring the services of Santa.

Since Santa decided a few years ago to visit Ellenville for a few weeks each year, Benson said he has become a popular individual, and the children look forward to meeting him again.

Last year Santa met several hundred children who do not live in Ellenville, and he hopes they will come back to see him again.

Two Students Killed Motoring to Homes

Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 26 (UP)—Two college students among a group of six driving home for the Thanksgiving holiday were killed last night when their car swerved out of control and collided with another vehicle on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Dead were Nancy Churchill, 19, Pearl River, N. Y., and Amos Wong, of Spring Valley, near Pearl River.

The others in the car, driven by Anne McLaughlin, 19, (223 Tenafly Rd.) Englewood, N. J., were admitted to Harrisburg Hospital at Harrisburg. None was reported seriously injured. All were students at Baldwin Wallace College at Cleveland, O.

The occupants of the second car, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hoover, Petersburg, Va., both about 35, and their six-year-old son, also were injured. Physicians at the Harrisburg Hospital said the condition of the couple was "unsatisfactory."

Miss McLaughlin told police she remembered passing another car before striking the center strip of the toll road, losing control of the vehicle.

Names of the others in the accident were not available.

TILLSON

Tillson, Nov. 26—The regular meeting of the Tillson Home Bureau, scheduled for Nov. 28, has been cancelled due to the holiday. A special meeting will take place Dec. 3. Plans for the Christmas party will then be discussed, and the members will finish the tooth brush rug project at that time.

The Tillson boys 4H Club held a special meeting in the Tillson school Saturday night at which time members were awarded achievement pins and project completion papers. A movie on 4H activities overseas was shown, as well as slides of pictures taken at the summer camp. Parents were invited and about 30 attended the affair.

Twelve Tillson 4H girls attended a Christmas green project at the First Baptist Church in Kingston Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Carter of Scarsdale visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Deyo Saturday.

Joseph Gallagher of Kingston spent the weekend visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Oliver Keator.

School District 2 taxes are now being collected by Mrs. N. Phillips, who advises that after Nov. 30, the rate will change from 1 per cent to 5 per cent.

Using Census Records As Birth Evidence

Persons who may lack certificates or need other evidence, bearing on citizenship, age or family relationship, can obtain transcripts of their personal census records they were reminded by George DiCola, district supervisor, Middletotwn, N. Y., Census Bureau. It has been estimated that between 40 and 50 million Americans do not have birth certificates and the Census Bureau has handled nearly two million requests for copies of census records from individuals during the last decade.

The Middletown census official emphasized in his statement that personal information recorded by the Bureau is entirely confidential and may be furnished only upon written request of the individual to whom it relates or his legal representative. Application forms are available at his office as well as at other field offices of the Department of Commerce. The normal fee is three dollars for searches of two censuses for one person, each application being handled in regular turn with an average of several weeks to complete service. Expedited service will be furnished for a fee of four dollars. Search of two additional censuses require additional fees in the corresponding amounts. A fee of one dollar is charged for duplicate or extra copies of the original transcripts.

Small Families Explained

Raleigh, N. C. (AP) — Probably the main reason why families are smaller today than in grandfather's time is that children are not needed as much as they used to be. So says Family Relations Specialist Corrine Justice Grimsley of North Carolina State College. So much of the work has been taken out of the home and so many labor-saving devices added that fewer persons are needed to get the work done.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

The Automobile Club of New York in the Sunday, June 29, 1952 Herald Tribune suggests a Catskill mountain and Hudson river valley 340-mile tour which should interest Kingstonians. They say, included in the tour are visits to such places as Ashokan reservoir, one of the city's principal water sources; historic Kingston, now celebrating its 300th anniversary; Phoenicia in the heart of the Catskill Forest Preserve, and the city of Catskill, scene of Rip Van Winkle's legendary "sleep." This trip is really mapped out for the Fourth of July weekend, but I don't see why Kingstonians can't enjoy it at anytime they so desire to take several hours to motor in their own vicinity.

The Hasbrouck House near Newburgh, is their first stop on the tour. It is said, it was the site of Gen. Washington's headquarters in 1782. The house is maintained by the state as a national shrine and contains period furnishings and historic relics. Well, so does our Senate House Museum. New Paltz is their next stop on the tour. They say, it is at the foot of the Shawangunk mountains. Six stone houses from the original Huguenot settlement in 1700 still stand and are open to the public.

About Kingston, they say, "It became a permanent Dutch settlement in 1652 and was the scene of three Indian attacks before the Revolution. The state constitution was drafted here in 1777 and the town became the first capital of New York." . . . "Of particular interest are the Senate House and Museum, which have been rebuilt, and the Daughters of the American Revolution House, built in 1660 and containing many of the original Dutch furnishing and a collection of Colonial utensils. If desired, Kingston can be made the stopping-off point for the first night."

I further quote from the article in the Tribune, "Ashokan reservoir, west of Kingston, is encircled by a picturesque 49-mile drive. Fishing is permitted in the lake, which holds 125,000,000,000 gallons of water. Slide mountain, 4,204 feet and the highest point in the Catskills, is in the Catskill Forest Preserve, near Phoenicia. There are many public camp sites and hiking trails in the preserve as well as fishing and bathing. It is often said, that strangers know more about our locality and have been more places than we ourselves. I found that to be true when I stayed in New York.

About Catskill, they say it is located on the Hudson river.

Opening lead—♠ 10

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the National Tournament begins in Miami at the end of this week, the newspaper reports of the goings-on will probably concentrate on all the weird bids and plays that are made rather than on the routine bids and plays.

This is not based entirely on the principle that it's news when a man bites a dog. Experts make more unusual plays than average players do because an expert knows when to break the rules.

Take the case of the old bridge rule: "Second-hand low." Millions of bridge players follow this rule obediently, without ever questioning it. They are usually right in so doing, but the expert finds the right time to break such a rule—as in today's hand.

West found the killing opening lead when he opened the ten of spades. Dummy played low, and East signalled enthusiastically with the eight of spades. Declarer took the ace of spades and led a low club, properly enough.

The average West player would meekly play his low club, and declarer would make his contract by finessing dummy's ten of clubs. East would win this trick with the queen, of course, but would then be unable to defeat the contract.

Dummy's queen of spades would be a sure stopper, and declarer would make his game contract with five club tricks, two diamonds, one heart, and one spade.

The expert West foils this plot by playing the jack of clubs at the second trick. This simple "second-hand-high" play has a profound effect on the play of the hand.

If West is allowed to hold the trick with his jack of clubs, he can lead another spade to defeat the contract at once. If dummy wins the first club trick, the club suit can never be brought in. And without the long club suit, South cannot hope to make his game contract.

Gets Three Years For Bogus Money

New York, Nov. 26 (Special)—A young New Jersey counterfeiter, apprehended in Kingston on October 7, 1949 after an alert gas station attendant refused to accept a bogus $20 bill, was sentenced to three years in prison by Judge Edward Weinfeld in the U. S. District Court here yesterday.

The phony bill passer, Richard Sposini, 24, of Newark, N. J., was picked up by state police at Kingston after James Hodges, a gas station attendant at Lake Katrine, had the presence of mind to take down his license number.

According to Assistant U. S. Attorney Julian Frank, Sposini pulled into the gas station and tried to pass off the bill for some gas he had purchased. When Hodges refused to accept it, Sposini paid for the gas with good money and drove off.

But Hodges took down the license number and notified state police, who stopped Sposini at Kingston.

The New Jersey man was indicted on May 11, 1951, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. On December 3, 1951 he changed his plea to guilty and was released in $1,500 bail until his sentencing today.

It's always Winter in your refrigerator... that's why Ballantine Beer is brewed for flavor that chill can't kill

When you've settled down to enjoy the great indoors, and your thoughts turn to rest and refreshment, chances are the first thing that comes to mind is a nice cold glass of beer.

May we offer you a suggestion? Make it a nice cold glass of Ballantine Beer.

Here's beer that keeps its fine flavor even when served ice cold. Ballantine Beer is deep-brewed for flavor!

For lightness, yes! For dryness, of course! But first, last, and always, Ballantine brews for flavor. The fine, full flavor of ripe, tawny grains and hops is brewed so deep in this beer that chill can't kill it!

Serve Ballantine Beer right off the ice. It just brims with flavor!

Since 1840

Campbell Gets Award

Kevin Campbell was the only Cub to receive an award. He was presented the Gold and also the Silver Arrow for the Wolf Badge.

The parents present at the Pack meet were Mrs. Alsdorf, Mrs. Argiro, Mrs. Stillman, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mrs. Angell, Dr. Link, Mrs. Pilch, Mrs. La Porte, Mrs. Caram, Mr. and Mrs. Tannenbaum, Dr. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Vett, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. H. DuBois, Mrs. La Falce, Mrs. Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. K. Smiley, Mrs. K. Philips, Mrs. H. Philips, Mr. and Mrs. Babb, Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. Jay, Mr. Landau, Mrs. Nystromn, Mrs. Craig, Mr. Gersh and Mrs. Weisz.

Cubmaster Harrison said that no Cub may receive a badge or certificate unless his adult sponsor is present to receive it. The badge is presented to the sponsor and the sponsor presents it to the Cub. The sponsor, usually the parent, has to work with the Cub. This is Cub Scout regulation and will be strictly adhered to. It is the only way to insure the success of Cubbing in New Paltz.

Be sure to cook the gizzard and heart of a chicken or turkey until they are tender before adding them to the poultry dressing.

Thanksgiving . . .

Once again it is our privilege to pause that we may count our blessings. And give thanks to Him.

We thank Him for the firm faith and underlying wisdom of our fathers who did bequeath to us the fundamental principles of freedom and opportunity under which we have long lived and prospered.

This is our heritage.

And, as we lay aside our work for this day, let us not alone give thanks to Him for the gifts He hath bestowed upon us. Let us seek His help that we may long retain this priceless heritage which is ours.

Amen

BEWARE GYN-E-COSMA
Unhappiness Often Follows Women Who Neglect This Unpleasant Condition
Gyn-e-cosma is a tattle tale—Gyn-e-cosma (unpleasant woman-odor) may be a condition due to improper hygiene.
Men do not speak of it but only too often they shrug their shoulders and back away from the woman who is afflicted with it. Only too often women themselves do not realize they have it, yet medical authorities state that it is fairly common and a hygienic douche when needed will often tend to relieve it.
Play safe—when necessary start your bath with a fragrant V.A. cleansing douche—protect yourself! Be sure that you are as fastidious in this direction as you are about your skin and complexion.
Use V.A., America's Cosmetic Douche—a fine cleansing powder with no hospital after-smell! In convenient single dose "packettes." Let V.A. add the final touch to your dantiness and allure. At United Cut Rate Pharmacy, 324 Wall St.—V.A. 12 packettes 50c, or a 4 oz. jar 60c. Get it today!

Elsie Marie Baum Weds G. C. Caldwell In Pennsylvania

Miss Elsie Marie Baum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Justus V. Baum, Sr., of 448 South Fourth street, Colwyn, Pa., was married last Saturday afternoon at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Darby, Pa., to Gordon C. Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Caldwell of 36 Cherry street, Willow Grove, Pa., with the Rev. James B. Diffenderfer, pastor, officiating.

The wedding is of interest to friends in the Wittenberg area where Miss Baum and her family have been summer visitors for many years.

Anthony Di Joseph, soloist, sang Oh, Perfect Love and The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden and the organist, Frank Strockbine, played The Lord's Prayer, Liebestraum and Romance. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums, white gladioli, laurel and fern and candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, illusion neckline, long lace sleeves, short satin sweep, satin and lace bonnet with fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of large white chrysanthemums in the center with small white mums surrounding, arranged in cascade shape.

Mrs. Harry W. Cannon, 39 Commerce street, Smyrna, Del., a friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Justus V. Baum, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, Shoemakersville, Calif., and Mrs. Walter M. Mason of Sacramento, Calif., cousin of the bride. Mrs. Cannon and the bridesmaids all wore emerald green gowns, net skirt with velveteen peplums, tops and capes, gold braided caps. The bridesmaids carried gold chrysanthemums, all in the same flower arrangement as that of the bride.

Best man was Roy A. Nuss of 308 North Easton road, Willow Grove, Pa. Ushers were George Roberts of Willow Grove, Pa., and Justus V. Baum, Jr., of Shoemakersville, Calif., brother of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Sunday school room of the church. After a motor trip through Virginia, during which they will visit Williamsburg, Va., and other historic spots, they will return by the Skyline Drive. Their future home will be at 825 13th avenue, Prospect Park, Pa.

The bride attended Sharon Hill High School, Drexel Institute and the Philadelphia School of Industrial Art. The bridegroom attended Upper Moreland High School, Clemson A and M in South Carolina, served in the U. S. Navy for two years as AOM3c, part of the time in the Hawaiian Islands. He is a mechanical engineer with Westinghouse.

Rochester Civic Orchestra Plays Saturday

The Rochester Civic Orchestra which will play in the Kingston High School auditorium Saturday evening. Tickets are available at O'Reilly's (uptown), Rossi's, the Kingston Library or from any director of the Children's Home or telephone 1448.

Finest Musicians Play in Rochester Civic Orchestra

The Rochester Civic Orchestra, which will present a concert in the Kingston High School auditorium Saturday evening, Nov. 29, had a unique beginning.

In 1922 the late George Eastman, film magnate and philanthropist, built the magnificent theatre in Rochester which bears his name. Long a lover of music, he wanted to organize for this new theatre an orchestra that would rank with the best in the nation. With cost no object, he obtained 100 of the finest musicians in the United States to form the Rochester Orchestra.

A few years later George Eastman died and a change of policy followed in the theatre. Threatened with the loss of the orchestra when his death brought an end to his generous support, a group of Rochesterians formed the Rochester Civic Music Association to maintain this splendid symphony orchestra.

With funds quickly raised, the 50 top flight men in the larger orchestra were organized into the smaller Civic Orchestra to give "pop" concerts over a 22-week season, thus helping defray the deficit of the symphony. To this day the Rochester Civic continues to be the nucleus of the Rochester Philharmonic.

Attracts Top Musicians

The Rochester Civic continues to attract musicians of the highest caliber because of the unusual musical opportunities available. Most of the first-desk players of the Civic are also members of the Rochester Philharmonic, and in many cases, members of the Eastman School of Music faculty. This produces a music schedule of year-round duration and produces a combined income which is more attractive than most orchestras can offer.

The people of Rochester are so proud of the tradition of fine music which its two fine orchestras have maintained that they have organized nearly 12,000 strong in the ranks of the Rochester Civic Music Association, making it the largest organization of its kind in the world.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at O'Reilly's (uptown), Rossi's, the Kingston Library or from any director of the Children's Home or telephone 1448.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

PLEASANTNESS IS BETTER

"How frank should one be?" is the subject of the following letter. "When a friend asks, "How do you like my new hat, "and you personally think it very unbecoming, is it rude to say you do not like it? A friend and I have had a difference of opinion about this. She seems to think that you should say you like it whether or not you do. I disagree with her and think that when an opinion is asked for, one should give it frankly and honestly."

If the hat has been bought and paid for and cannot be exchanged, there is no use in saying it is very unbecoming. But if the hat can be exchanged and it is really very unbecoming, it would be fairer to be frank to a real friend.

A Secretary's Dilemma

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what a secretary in a small office of two people would be expected to do to express sympathy in the event of the death of her employer's mother? My boss' mother is very ill and I'm afraid I may have to face this situation in the not-too-distant future, and I would like to know the correct thing to do at such time.

Answer: Nothing would be expected further than saying how sorry you are at the first opportunity after the death. If you happen to know the mother, it would be a kindly gesture to send a few flowers to the funeral.

If He Is Unaware!

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how a wedding invitation should be addressed to the wife of a relative whose husband is in a sanitarium and will be unable to come to the wedding? Should it be addressed to Mr. and Mrs., or Mrs. alone?

Answer: Under most circumstances it would be best to address it to Mr. and Mrs., unless he is hopelessly insane and has been away for a very long time.

Return Address

Dear Mrs. Post: How does a married woman correctly write her name on a return address? Should it be Mrs. John Smith, Jane Smith or J. Smith?

Answer: "Mrs. John Smith."

(Which expression should one use, "I'm sorry" or "Excuse me?" Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet, E-15, "Manners in Public," explains the use of these phrases and other courtesies. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care The Freeman, P. O. 'Christian Western' Will Be Shown

"Mr. Texas," called "the world's first Christian western," will be shown here Friday, Nov. 28 in the Stone Ridge Methodist Church, according to an announcement today by the Rev. Malcolm E. Shattuck, pastor. Showings will be at 7:30 and 9 p. m.

The film is the first major production of Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., and features the famed young evangelist and his entire team. In leading roles are Redd Harper and Cindy Walker, professional western stars who have given their talents to Christian service.

Produced as an experiment, "Mr. Texas," a full length feature, was first shown in Hollywood Bowl on Oct. 1, 1951, with a record throng of 25,000 persons in the audience. In the past year, an estimated three million persons have seen the film. The Graham film organization claims that 85,000 of this number made decisions to accept the Christian way of life.

No charge for admission will be made and doors of the Stone Ridge Methodist Church will be opened at 7 p. m.

The tragic story behind Fanny Brice's song "My Man"

When she sang this plaintive ballad, she won the hearts of millions. But the cheers never ended her grief. For behind the throbbing lyrics was the story of her own devotion to the man who mocked her love. Here is Norman Katkov's story of Fabulous Fanny and the man she was never able to forget. Read it in the December Ladies' Home Journal.

Thanksgiving Day

You have much to be thankful for today. Be grateful for your many material blessings, but don't overlook the propriety of giving thanks for an intangible—courage. What we individuals have and enjoy today is due to courage. The courage of the brave band of Pilgrims, who, in defense of a principle that is now one of our "inalienable rights" left their warm homes and comfortable living to brave the ocean's unknown perils. They gave us our first Thanksgiving, celebrated after their courage and faith in God had carried them through the killing New England winter of their arrival. Their descendants showed courage in facing the many fearsome problems of our nation's early years. Their courage inspired many others, from many countries of the Old World, to immigrate to America and help build it into the most advanced nation in the world. And, in giving thanks for the courage of America's builders, pray, now, that Americans will maintain that tradition of courage through today's troublous times that truly "try men's souls."

As Pegler Sees It

material clarifying your present political position?"

"This pamphlet was written by myself," Lovestone replied. "It represents substantially and in essence our position today."

The opening of this declaration says: "Every thoughtful person must realize that the continuance of the capitalistic system is incompatible with the continuance of civilization. It is as clear as noonday that, if this system survives the late war (the First World War) must be succeeded by other wars, which will be even more destructive. A few more such conflicts must put an end to everything that has made European races of importance in the world.

"Thus capitalism has lost all the merits by which, in the past, it sought to commend itself to the average man. Through trusts and intimate union with the state, capitalism has succeeded in destroying almost all vestigates of freedom, through control of education and the press it has made democracy a farce . . . it has made peace and progress impossible except by its overthrow."

Lovestone then put a surprise question. Who wrote this? It was written by Bertrand Russell, the English Socialist, only 18 months after the first war.

Lovestone then added his own endorsement. He said historic events had confirmed "this verdict of condemnation." This was the "fundamental viewpoint" of his current political party, the independent labor league of America. Continuing, he said the new deal had been only "superficial" because the "system" was "fatally ill." He next quoted at length from the Communist manifesto in support of this contention.

Under the sub-head, "we want a new social order," Lovestone outlined a program substantially the same as the basic Communist program of Soviet Russia which he had helped to set in motion. He had broken with the Kremlin over nothing more important than the Kremlin's imperial program and its underlying belief that Moscow must be the capital of communism for all the world with no allowance anywhere for the native or geographic peculiarities of other peoples.

Mr. Wallace is aghast at the possibility that in publishing an article praising Brown's activities in western Europe his magazine has lent itself to the promotion of any form of communism.

The fact that General Eisenhower praised Brown proves only that Ike is, in the words of General Brice P. Disque, retired, in a letter to Wallace, "utterly incompetent to evaluate such a man as Irving Brown."

to give thanks...

. . . IS AN AMERICAN HERITAGE FROM OUR PURITAN FOREFATHERS

Since the first settlers paused in their courageous endeavor to build a new country in a wilderness — to give thanks for their blessings — it has been an American tradition. On this Thanksgiving Day we give heartfelt thanks for the rich blessings we know as Americans - - - and for our heritage of freedom and democracy.

"But, madam, a pound is only 8 ounces today!"

No, weights haven't changed. But many values have. Seems no matter what you buy, you get less for your money today. Except when you buy telephone service. Even though the cost of living has jumped 92%, the average price of telephone service has risen only 15% since 1940.

TODAY'S BIG BARGAIN. Your cost of living has jumped 92% since 1940. Yet the price of phone service has risen an average of only 15%—more for some, less for others, of course, depending on the type of service and the use made of it.

And your telephone is a bigger bargain than ever because the price of telephone service has not kept up with the rise in telephone costs. Operating efficiencies have narrowed this gap, but they fall far short of closing it.

Yet we are moving right ahead with the costliest construction program in our history—to catch up with the backlog of telephone orders, to meet heavy new demands, and make service even better. Today, it is faster, clearer than ever. You can call more telephones, too—twice as many in the average community as in 1940.

Measured by service or measured by price, your telephone is one of today's big bargains.

Harry's Angels Trounce Wiltwycks, 90-74, for Y Autumn Title

37-Point Third Period Decides Crucial Game

Holstein, Dunham, Juhl Hits in 20s

Harry's Angels proved themself the undisputed class of the YMCA Autumn League by routing the powerful Wiltwyck Motors, 90-74, for the 1952 crown.

In dethroning the perennial champions, the Angels dominated the contest by a surprising margin after a tight first quarter in which they eked out a 16-15 lead.

With Lafayette "Champ" Holstein, Andy Juhl and Ward Dunham crashing the "20" circle, the Angels took charge in the second and third quarters. They led 38-32 at the half and broke the game apart with a 37-17 margin in the third quarter.

Wiltwycks' last quarter surge against a relaxed Angel defense enabled them to shave the eventual margin by 10 points.

Won Nine Games

The Angels nailed down the championship with a brilliant record of nine wins and one loss in the city's strongest basketball league.

Dunham picked up 25 points, seven from the foul line, as the Angels cashed in on 24 conversions in 22 calls against the Motormen for a terrific percentage.

"Champ" Holstein rimmed 21 points and Andy Juhl hit for 23, including seven fouls.

Big Bill Kleine, the Woodstock Varsity's prolific scorer, led the Motormen with 20 points, while Vince Peck and Big Tom Morrissey was sharing 26 in the forward slots.

NFA 'Drafts' Burkowski for Emergency

Since desperate situations are said to require desperate action, Newburgh Free Academy is hewing to the old adage in tomorrow's DUSO League championship contest with Kingston.

The "drafting" of Mickey "The Marvel" Burkowski, the Academy's greatest all-around athlete for end duty reflects the anxiety and tension in the NFA camp.

Burkowski, a sensational basketball player and diamond star, suffered a shoulder separation in NFA's second game and it was subsequently announced that he would not play any more football for NFA. There was a lot of hulabaloo in Newburgh about football ruining the greatest basketball and baseball prospect in a decade.

The official lineup submitted by NFA for the "big game," however, lists Burkowski as a starting end. Burkowski is a fine pass receiver and natural competitor. After he departed NFA had no passing attack to speak of. With him in there the Maroon's job becomes harder.

Elis Sign Olivar For Three Years

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 26 (AP)—Athletic Director Robert Hall announced today that Yale University and football Coach Jordan Olivar had agreed on a three-year contract. Its terms were not disclosed.

Olivar, who piloted the Yale team this fall to its most successful season since 1946, was serving as a one-year replacement for Coach Herman Hickman, who resigned unexpectedly in August to enter the television field. Yale's victory over Harvard last Saturday gave it a 7-2 record for the season.

Olivar, cut adrift by the abandonment of football at Loyola of Los Angeles where he coached in 1951, had been hired by Yale to be Hickman's backfield coach.

CYO Basketball Starts Nov. 29

The CYO Grammar School Basketball League will organize at a meeting scheduled Saturday, Nov. 29, at 9 a. m. at the Myron J. Michael School gym.

Leo A. Schupp, county CYO sports director, said leagues would be formed in three classifications according to weight; 85-pound class, 100-pound class and 120-pound class.

The league is open only to grammar school boys under 15 years of age. The players must not be repeating the 8th grade or be in the 9th grade. Competitors who graduate during the season are ineligible to compete after the date of graduation.

The league rules also stipulate that in all three leagues, the player must be either a resident member of the parish he represents or a registered pupil of the parish school since September, 1952.

All eligible players are requested to sign up at the MJM gym on Saturday. If possible the schedule will be started that day.

Pennsylvania Gets Assist from Irish In Mounting Protest Against TV Policy

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—For a time Penn was the only vocal dissenter of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's controlled television program but today the Quakers have an ally — and a strong one who is becoming more irked with each passing day.

That's the University of Notre Dame, one of the major colleges that stands to lose plenty if it abides by the "Game of the Week" edict of the NCAA. As a member of the organization, the Irish have stuck by the rules, but the rumblings in South Bend are becoming louder and louder.

"I really don't know what we'll do if they keep this up," said the Rev. Edmund Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, today before heading back for his school after appearing on a television program here. "One thing I do know, though, is that we're entirely against the program.

Doesn't Hurt Gate

"To start with, we don't go along with the premise of the NCAA that televising college games hurts attendance. We have yet to be shown convincing figures. They thought radio would hurt, but it built up the attendance. We think television will do the same."

Father Joyce also pointed out that even though the great majority of the colleges voted for the measure that limits one game each week to national television—and each team appearing only once during the season—the rule was of doubtful legality.

"We've never said much on that count," he said, "but I have a feeling some of our lawyers would like to get at it."

He said, further, that any college should have the right to deal with its own problems as it sees fit, and the NCAA program takes all rights away from the individual.

Royals Develop New Scoring Threats

(By The Associated Press)

The Rochester Royals, co-leaders with Minneapolis in the western division of the National Basketball Association, are developing a new scoring trio to go with their old reliables, Bob Davies, Bobby Wanzer and Arnie Risen.

Just when you stop one set, the other breaks loose on a scoring spree.

Marion (Sleepy) Spears and Arnie Johnson shared high scoring honors with 19 points each as the Royals trounced the Baltimore Bullets last night, 106-89. Jack Coleman, the third member of the new crew, chipped in with 14 points.

Of the old standbys, only Wanzer had a good night as he hit for 16 tallies. Davies and Risen scored only nine and eight points, respectively.

In the other contest, the Milwaukee Hawks snapped a six-game losing spell as they whipped the Indianapolis Olympians, 78-66. The Hawks employed a deliberate, slow-down attack which enabled them to keep possession of the ball most of the game. George Ratkovicz, Milwaukee center, topped the scorers with 15 points. Leo Barnhorst led the Olympians with 14.

Old Hurley Beats Rocket Five, 28-22

Notre Dame, Navy and Pennsylvania Picked to Win Saturday's Big Games

Hockey at a Glance
Tuesday's Results
Eastern League
Johnstown 10, Troy (N.Y.) 5.

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Making the final college football picks of the season while surrounded by turkey feathers. The feathers effectively hide last week's record of 30 correct and 8 incorrect choices for an average of .790.

Navy over Army: The Cadets are vastly improved over last year. In fact they are much better than the Army team which started the present season. However, Navy's defensive unit is the best to represent the sailors in recent years—and you can't lose if you can keep the other team from scoring. This game is your TV tidbit Saturday afternoon.

Notre Dame over Southern California (Saturday): Figuring that the Trojans were at their best last Saturday when they got by UCLA and gained the Rose Bowl assignment. Also, the Irish apparently have cured their fumbling habits.

Pennsylvania over Cornell (Thursday): The Quakers need this decision to keep Coach George Munger from having the first losing season in his long stay at Pennsylvania. A Thanksgiving Day offering.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt (Saturday): It is Vanderbilt's turn to win this traditional contest but the Vols' tie with Kentucky last Saturday has awakened the team.

Texas over Texas AM (Thursday): Longhorns shouldn't have much difficulty here in a warmup for their Cotton Bowl test Jan. 1.

Georgia Tech over Georgia (Saturday): All of Tech's cripples have regained their health for this meeting.

Holy Cross over Boston College (Saturday): Another one where you can throw the season's records out of the window. Chuck Maloy's passing to be decisive.

And some of the others:

Thursday

Colgate over Brown, Miami over Cincinnati, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech.

Friday Night

Miami over North Carolina.

Saturday

Fordham over New York University.

Woodstock Varsity To Play Cerasaro's

The powerful Woodstock Varsity which has piled up 181 points in crushing two Kingston opponents takes on another, the Cerasaro Bros. of the YMCA's "B" League, Friday at the Woodstock School gym. The sporting goods store representatives are undefeated in the "B" League with nine straight. In a recent game they set a league record with 112 points. Members of the squad are John Godwin, Jim Colclough, Dick Bezemer, Jack Hickey, Phil Mendel and Jack Schrader.

USC Faces Tough Going Saturday

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 26 (AP)—Southern California's Trojans may have to open their full bag of tricks against Notre Dame Saturday—if they expect to keep their record unblemished for their Rose Bowl engagement New Year's Day.

And that probability makes the game a scouting paradise for the coaching staff of Wisconsin's Badgers, the Trojans' Rose Bowl opponent.

Saturday's game is a sellout and both schools have requested that it be televised. The NCAA Television Committee is studying the request and has promised an answer. The NCAA's television game of the week Saturday is the Army-Navy contest at Philadelphia.

The Pacific Coast Conference champions have won nine in a row and haven't been beaten since they last faced the Irish in Los Angeles in the 1951 finale, when Notre Dame won by a 19-12 score.

And the Irish, ranked No. 7 in the current AP poll and one of the nation's upset kings, might do it again.

Ralph Guglielmi, who as a freshman quarterback last year sparked the Irish to victory over the men of Troy, is ready for another try. His passing arm will be aided by a running attack which has averaged 206 yards per game, paced by halfback Johnny Lattner and fullback Neil Worden.

Southern California's fine record has been compiled largely on a great defensive unit which has been responsible, directly or indirectly, for 141 points. That's more than the 106 points tallied by the offensive crew.

Robert Herzog Sets Two New Records With 263-654 in Central Rec League

Maybe it was the exhilarating aftermath of watching the Yale football manager score an extra point against Harvard in last Saturday's debacle at Cambridge.

In any event, that old Blue, Robert Herzog reared up and smashed two individual records in last night's session of the Central Recreation League.

Herzog fired 263 in his first game to eclipse Joe Sangi's 248; slumped to 157 in the middle set and rallied for 234 and a 654 overall. Don McConnell rolled the previous high of 641.

Carl Bowser also turned in some tenpin heroics, bouncing back from a 169 opener to topple 202 and 248 for a 619 overall.

President Byrd Says He Ain't Mad At Coach Tatum

Baltimore, Nov. 26 (AP)—University of Maryland president H. C. Byrd says Maryland has always intended to renew Coach Jim Tatum's contract and that jibes he had tossed Tatum's way were "in a jocular vein."

Tatum, who now draws $13,500 a year as approved by the legislature, got a five-year contract at Maryland in 1948 a year after coming from Oklahoma and the contract expires next June.

Byrd said yesterday Tatum will be back "unless Jim decides he wants to go somewhere else." On renewing the contract, Byrd said the university "never had any intention to do otherwise."

In a talk Monday before the Touchdown Club in Washington, Byrd, a former football coach at Maryland, himself had blamed coaching for a late-season slump which saw Maryland's 19-game winning string snapped with two straight losses. Byrd referred in his speech to Tatum's "talking too much."

In talking with reporters yesterday, Byrd said he was only speaking "in a jocular vein" but added quickly the jesting "undoubtedly" contained some truth.

Byrd said he was surprised people thought he and Tatum were on the outs. Byrd insisted newspapers "exaggerated completely" remarks he made about Tatum at the Touchdown dinner.

Charles to Use New Killer Punch

Chicago, Nov. 26 (AP)—Ezzard Charles, who says he has forsaken his "Little Lord Fauntleroy" conduct in the ring and now is like a dead-end-kid, will try to smash veteran Jimmy Bivins into oblivion tonight at Chicago stadium.

Their scheduled 10-rounder will be televised nationally (10 p. m. EST) over CBS but about only 4,000 customers will be at ringside to see if Charles, the ex-heavyweight champion, keeps his promise.

Charles at one point of his boxing career was recognized as quite a chiller, having scored 48 knockouts. But then he decided a good defense is better than a good offense, and promptly lost his title to Jersey Joe Walcott. Now he appears to be returning to the killer type of fighter who seems to delight the fans.

Ez Is New Tiger

Tom Tannas, co-manager of Charles, says his Tiger is "a much better fighter now than when he won the title.

Charles says that he doesn't intend to "take any more chances on winning by points."

Im going to slug it out with every opponent from now on. I will try to knock out Bivins tonight."

Hearing of such forthright audacity from the Charles' camp, 32-year-old Bivins, a 7-5 underdog countered with:

"Walcott proved that it takes only one good punch on Ezzard's button to put him away. I can hit as hard as Walcott and will prove it. Ez can't take my right hand shots."

Charles, 31, plans to weight 185 and Bivins 185.

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, has promised the winner a crack at the heavyweight championship in June, three months after title-holder Rocky Marciano and Walcott have a rematch.

White Plains, N. Y. — Jimmy Flood, 164, New York, outpointed Joe Tomasello, 158, Elizabeth, N. J. 8.

Clothes Make a Woman—or Do They?

Bernard A. Feeney, dressed in the very latest fashion, wows 'em at the seventh annual Kiwanis Kapers show which was presented last night at the Kingston High School auditorium. Feeney (designated "Bernice" in the program) was one of a bevy of beauteous maidens who participated in a hilarious fashion show, one of the top attractions at the Kapers. Helen Davenport, standing at the mike, introduced the "ladies." The man with the long beard is Louis Schafer, genial physical director at the YMCA, alias Rip Van Winkle. Standing at the left, with the nifty straw hat and striped jacket, is Howard C. "Jack" St. John, local attorney. (Freeman photo)

Change of climate has no value in treating tuberculosis, contrary to popular belief. Doctors recommend that patients enter a TB hospital within visiting distance of family and friends.

Put on Probation, Told to Quit Force

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Patrolman William A. Tierney, 26, of Queens Village, Queens, who pleaded guilty on October 31 to assaulting a 22-year-old youth in Times Square on January 1, 1951, was given a suspended sentence yesterday by General Sessions Judge Jacob Gould Schurman with the condition that he retire from the New York city police force.

James D. C. Murray, defense counsel, in his plea to the court for leniency stated that he did not think Tierney possessed the temperament to be a policeman and suggested that he would retire from the force.

Schurman, in pronouncing sentence, placed Tierney in a three-month probation period with one of the conditions being his resignation from the police department.

Tierney assaulted Robert Cox, 22, of 9 Elm street, Lynbrook, while arresting him for disorderly conduct. The charge against Cox was subsequently suspended.

Faced Five Counts

Tierney was tried for four counts of felonious assault and one count on simple assault last March but the trial jury disagreed. On October 31, the suspended patrolman pleaded guilty to simple assault.

Murray told the court that Tierney was the father of three children and possessed an excellent record as a marine.

He stated that Tierney was the holder of a Purple Heart medal and a Presidential Citation for meritorious service. Murray said "he stands before you now with shrapnel in his body."

Schurman noted that Tierney had been found guilty in a police departmental trial for assaulting a coast guardsman in October, 1950.

Tierney has been working as a longshoreman since his suspension as a policeman.

Women Will Hold U. S. Purse Strings

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration will be sort of like an average American family in one way—women will handle much of the money.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby has been named head of a federal agency which includes the world's largest insurance agency, and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest will be signing the paper currency—the nation's folding money.

President-elect Eisenhower has named Mrs. Hobby of Houston, Tex., as administrator of the Federal Security Agency (FSA) and Mrs. Priest of Bountiful, Utah, as treasurer of the United States.

Eisenhower, in announcing Mrs. Hobby's designation to succeed Oscar Ewing, said she would attend cabinet meetings because of the importance of her post.

To Succeed Mrs. Clark

Mrs. Priest as treasurer will succeed Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark of Richland, Kan., the first woman to be Uncle Sam's purse string custodian. She will be charged with the receipt, disbursement and accounting of public moneys. Her signature will appear on all greenbacks from one dollar up.

Eisenhower's inclusion of Mrs. Hobby at cabinet meetings gave rise to renewed speculation that the Republicans may be planning to push the Hoover Commission recommendation that a new cabinet post be created to include the variety of activities now in the Federal Security Agency.

Mrs. Hobby, wartime WAC director and now executive director of the Houston Post, will be the first woman to head the FSA, one of the largest federal executive agencies. Created in 1939, it now has about 35,000 employes.

Boss of $17 Billion

She will become a trustee of one of the largest trust funds in the world—about 17 billion dollars held for those covered under the old age and survivors insurance program.

In addition Mrs. Hobby will have the over-all administration of the Office of Education and a variety of other welfare agencies, such as the Public Health Service, Food and Drug Administration, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Also under her direction will be four federally supported institutions—St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Howard University, the American Printing House for the Blind and Columbia Institution for the Deaf.

One Bid Opposed At Zone Hearing

Only one of four bids for zoning changes on Albany avenue was opposed at a public hearing last night.

Attorney Fred Stang, representing residents of the Roosevelt Park section, opposed the application of Mildred F. Cates to obtain a business zone designation for the property at 451 Albany avenue.

Stang said objections were based on the fact that the property extends back to Manor Place. There were no objections he said against any of the properties directly on Albany avenue, but applications for changes on properties bordering on Roosevelt Park were opposed.

Some overall plan should be worked out, the attorney said, so that a buffer zone could be established between the Albany avenue business or industrial area and Roosevelt Park properties.

Other Applications

The unopposed applications were by James E. Snead for 455 Albany avenue; John W. Martin for 487-89, and John B. Pfleghaar, 482-86.

Attorney Vincent G. Connelly, representing Pfleghaar, submitted a letter to show that his property is between one with a business and another with an industrial designation, and to emphasize that there should be no reason for not designating it as a business property.

Alderman Abram D. Relyea, chairman of the Common Council's laws and rules committee, who presided, will conduct hearings tonight on the applications of Doreen Scott, for a property at 321 Lucas avenue, and Agnes K. Salay, for one at 17 Pearl street. Both seek business zone designations.

Pekinese Runs Afoul Of Irritated Alsatian

Rhyl, Wales, Nov. 26 (AP)—A perky Pekinese that should have stood in bed ran into an Alsatian while out walking with his mistress, 14-year-old Ceri Price. A battle ensued in which the Peke came out second best.

Young Miss Price went to court charging the owner of the Alsatian with failure to keep a dangerous dog under control.

The defense produced as an expert witness a veterinary surgeon who testified it was possible that the Peke snapped at the Alastian.

"We don't know what happened," the vet said, "but even if the Alastian was under control, he would turn on another dog which called him names."

Alsatians just can't take being insulted, especially by such small things as Pekes, who are notoriously truculent and have no idea of their own size, the witness said. "In fact, Pekes think they are the biggest dogs out."

The court dismissed the case, which by yesterday didn't matter a snap to the Peke. The little one was so badly damaged in the argument he had to be destroyed.

9,000 Planes Due

Washington, Nov. 26 (AP)—American manufacturers will produce about 9,000 military airplanes this year, says the Aircraft Industries Association. This compares with a wartime peak of 96,318 planes in 1944.

Physician Phones To Australia as Sister Kenny Aid

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—A New York physician last night phoned to Australia instructions for a new treatment to help Sister Elizabeth Kenny who is seriously ill at her home there after suffering a stroke.

Dr. Irving Innerfield, a leader in the development of trypsin treatment, said her physician had phoned him in a desperate effort to save the life of the 66-year-old nurse, famed for her treatment of infantile paralysis.

The treatment employs the enzyme trypsin to digest the fibrin in a blood clot and thus dissolve the clot. A shipment of trypsin was flown from here because there are only eight vials of the substance known to be in Australia, enough for only four days treatment.

Dr. Innerfield said he would fly to Australia if Sister Kenny responded, but he added that her chances appeared remote.

Doctors attending Sister Kenny at her Toowoomba, Australia, home said tonight her condition remained critical although she has made slight improvement in the past 48 hours.

The doctors said the shipment of trypsin being flown from New York would reach Toowoomba, 85 miles from Brisbane, next Saturday.

Nursery Has Some Openings Available

At a recent meeting of parents, it was announced that there are still openings for enrollment at the Wooden Shoe Nursery, 52 Main street, a school considered especially helpful to working mothers.

Meetings with the Rev. Arthur Oudemool are to continue throughout the year, according to a schedule which calls for a session every two months on the last Thursday of the month.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 29.

At the recent session, the mothers were informed about plans to adapt a former kitchen for play purposes, with emphasis on a creative scheme using new sets of building blocks.

Relative to the openings for enrollment, it was said that some are for mornings and some for afternoons. Children may start any day, and there is a special arrangement for weekly payments if desired instead of monthly, it was announced.

St. Nick to Ride Friday, Dec. 5th

Announcement has been made that the Old Dutch Church will again sponsor the ride of St. Nicholas through the city streets on Friday evening, Dec. 5, which is the eve of St. Nicholas Day. This is the fourth consecutive year that the old custom has been carried out and it has grown in popularity steadily.

He will start from the armory and come down Manor avenue to Albany avenue, follow Albany avenue to Clinton avenue, over Main street to the front of the church house, 52 Main street, where he will distribute sweetmeats to the children waiting to greet him. He should arrive about 8 p. m.

St. Nicholas is the beloved patron saint of Dutch children and each year, on the eve of December 6, he visits the homes and leaves presents. This annual custom was brought from the Netherlands by the early Dutch settlers and was in practice in all of the Dutch communities, including Kingston, up until about 1850.

Finance Project Is Almost Spoiled

Spotswood, N. J., Nov. 26 (AP)—The eighth grade of the Spotswood grammar school was busy learning the fundamentals of finance. Each pupil was given $1 to "invest" in an effort to double his money.

Some bought material to make candy, Miss Audrey Scheidig, class advisor, reported today. Others bought and sold sporting goods. A few went into the shoe shining business.

But one pupil almost spoiled everything. He bought a pair of dice for 25 cents and went into action.

Kerhonkson, Nov. 26—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith had upstate guests last week.

Howard Kelder, of 301 Fair street, driver of a taxi in an accident near 81 Cedar street last night, suffered an injury to the left side of his face. A police report at 8:19 p. m., said the taxi was in collision with the truck of Sheldon O'Rourke parked at the curb near 81 Cedar street. Officers Charles Hoehing and George Loughran said the left rear of the truck, its signal light, reflector and a tire were damaged and the complete front of the taxi was damaged.

Charge He Took $15,000 From Bank

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—A 49-year-old manager of the Special Checking Account Department of the Empire Trust Company at 124 Broadway has been charged yesterday with embezzling $15,000 by withholding mailed-in deposits of customers over a period of seven years, it was announced by Leland V. Boardman, special agent in charge of the New York FBI Office.

Edward Michael Tennis, of 104-07 223rd street, Queens Village, Queens, waived hearing and was ordered held in $5,000 bail pending action by a grand jury, when he was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edward W. McDonald.

Tennis, who allegedly covered the embezzlements by mailing false statements to the customers involved, said that he used the money for "living expenses," Boardman stated.

His wife, a $75-a-week secretary to the vice-president of another bank, spent her salary exclusively on clothes, the federal agency quoted him as saying. Tennis earned $110 weekly.

Boardman said that Tennis had been employed by the bank for 34 years and that the embezzlement was uncovered when a customer complained that his checking account balance was wrong.

Will Ask for Funds

London, Nov. 26 (AP)—The vicar of Greenwich parish church in southeast London is counting on a helping hand from Greenwich, Conn., in restoring the historic church destroyed by bombs during the war. The Rev. G. S. Nason said today he needs about $25,000 and so far has been able to raise only $5,000. The vicar said he plans to go to the United States early in February to make a personal appeal for funds. Greenwich, Conn., was founded by settlers from the Greenwich district of London more than three centuries ago.

The answers to everyday insurance problems
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: A friend of mine who just became engaged was given a large and very valuable diamond ring. Her mother thinks it should be insured. Is it possible to name both my friend and her fiance in an insurance policy?

ANSWER: Yes. As a matter of fact the situation you describe is the only one in which a Personal Jewelry Floater policy may be written naming people who are not related as the insureds.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
